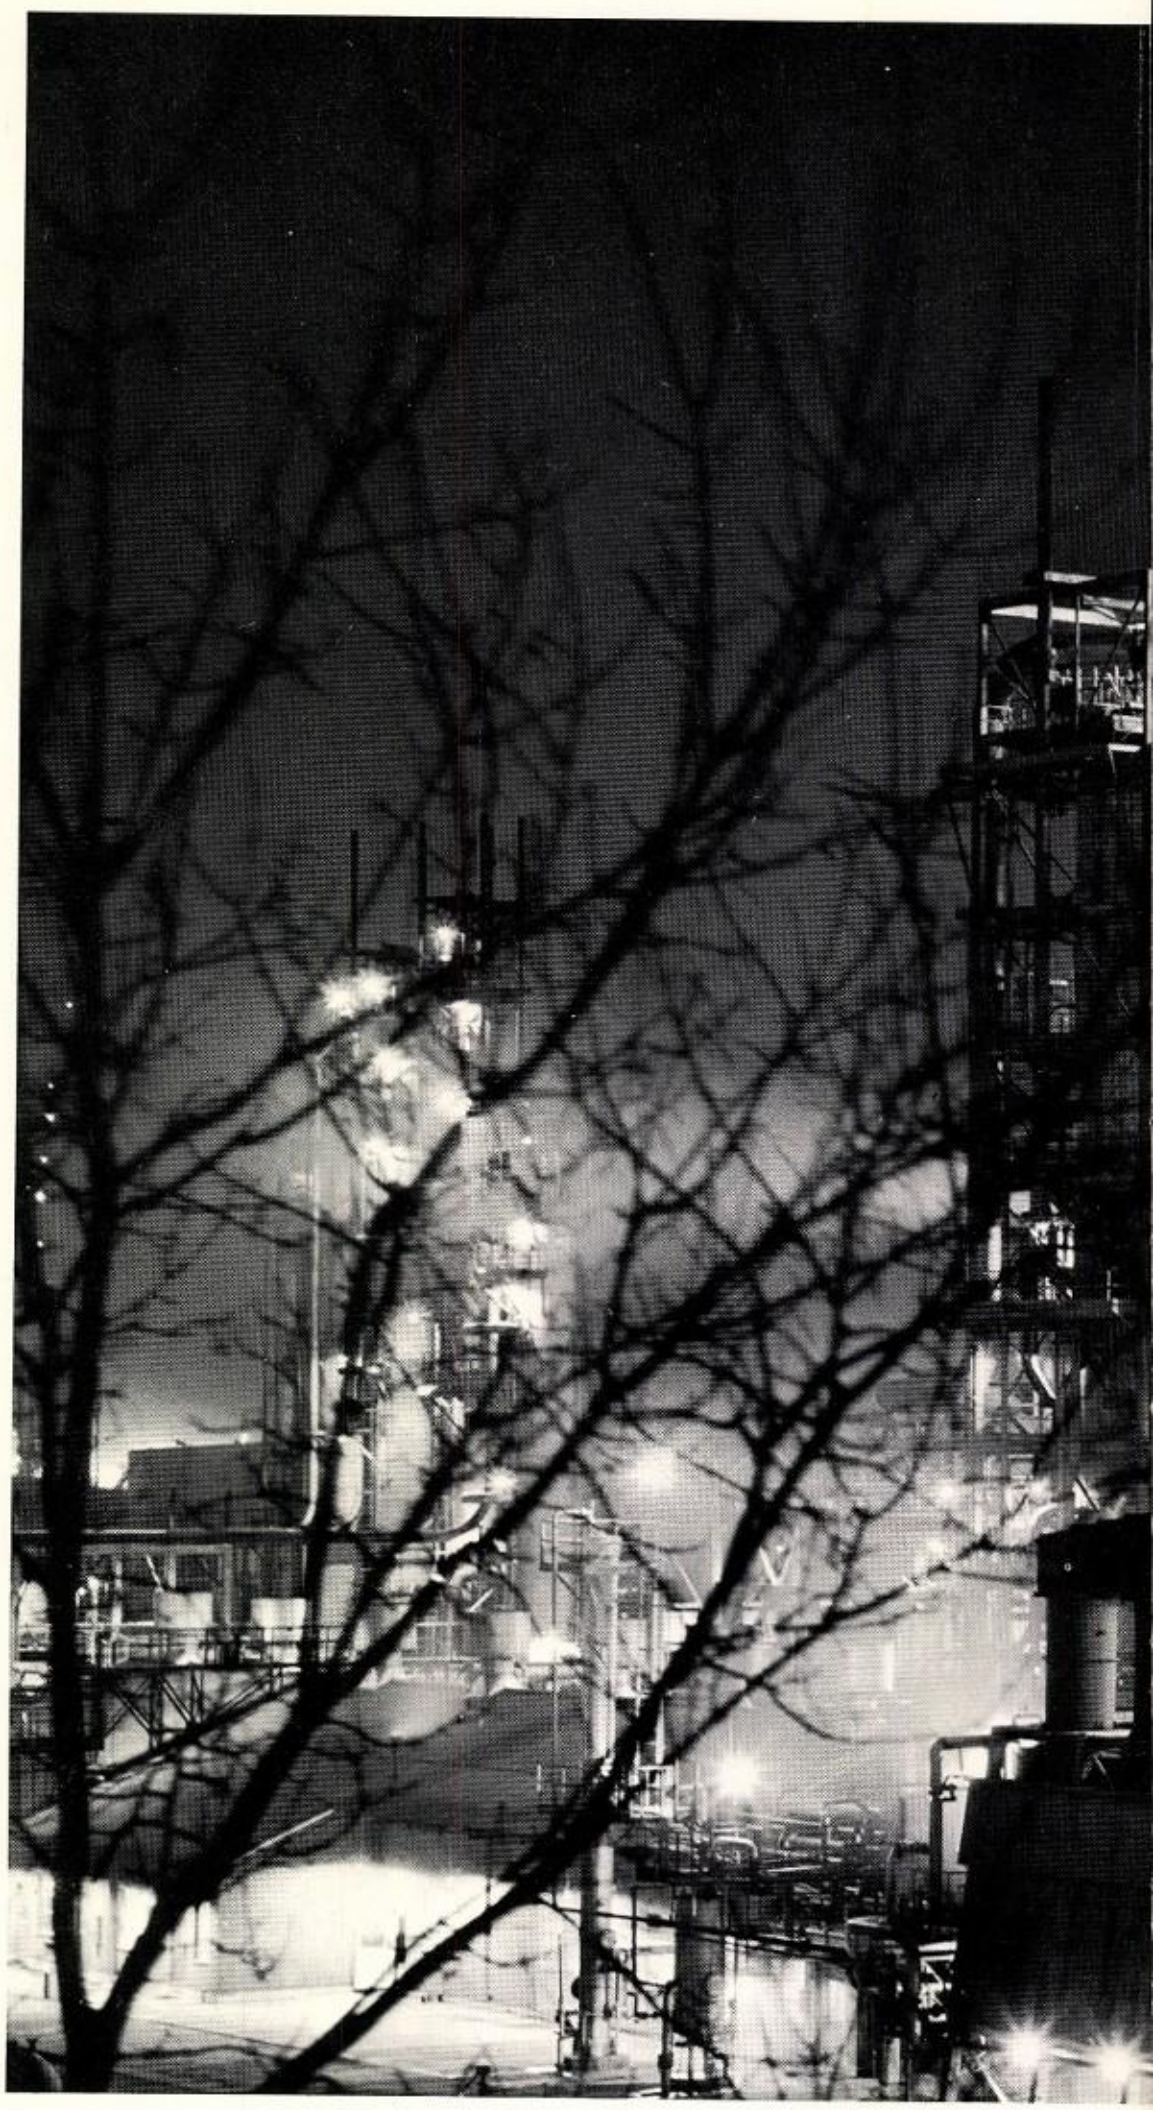
LOCKPORT TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL

LOCKPORT, ILLINOIS



From the dark and dormant earth comes a rich and powerful natural resource which gives life to the industry of a prosperous and growing nation. Oil—a source of power and product. From its crudest form it is refined into hundreds of products which are sold to this industrialized world.

We at Lockport Township High School have the world's richest and greatest natural resource—youth. Youth—the source of a powerful nation and a mighty world. From birth, a child goes through processes of learning and refining until he is an accepted and beneficial member of society. These phases of a person's life continue until death. Our high school years are only a part of that never-ending process.

Lockport Township High School is a refinery which processes youth. Through four years of work and play, joy and sadness, satisfaction and disappointment, comes a student who has been processed into an adult anxiously awaiting the opportunity to sell himself to the world as a product of the unique refinery of Lockport Township High School.

DEDICATION

Lockport Township High School has seen many wonderful and dedicated teachers pass through its doors. Miss Goerz is one of these devoted teachers.

Now in her twenty-second year of teaching at Lockport High, she has given of her talent in the field of mathematics. Her teaching techniques include her pleasing personality and smile which she radiates to everyone.

As a small thanks, Miss Goerz, for being the wonderful person you are, we dedicate to you, the LOCK 1964.

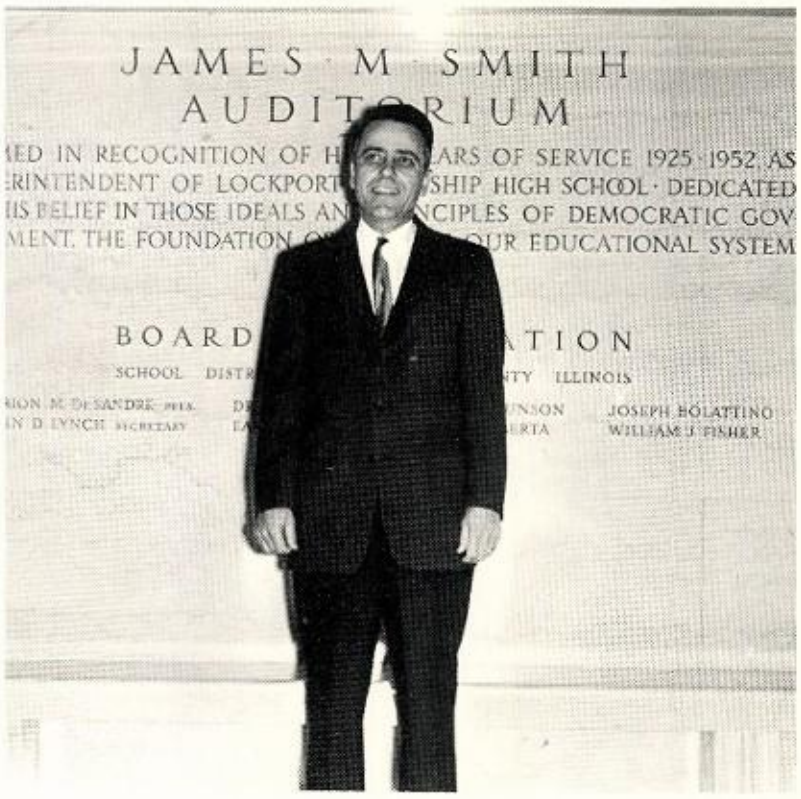
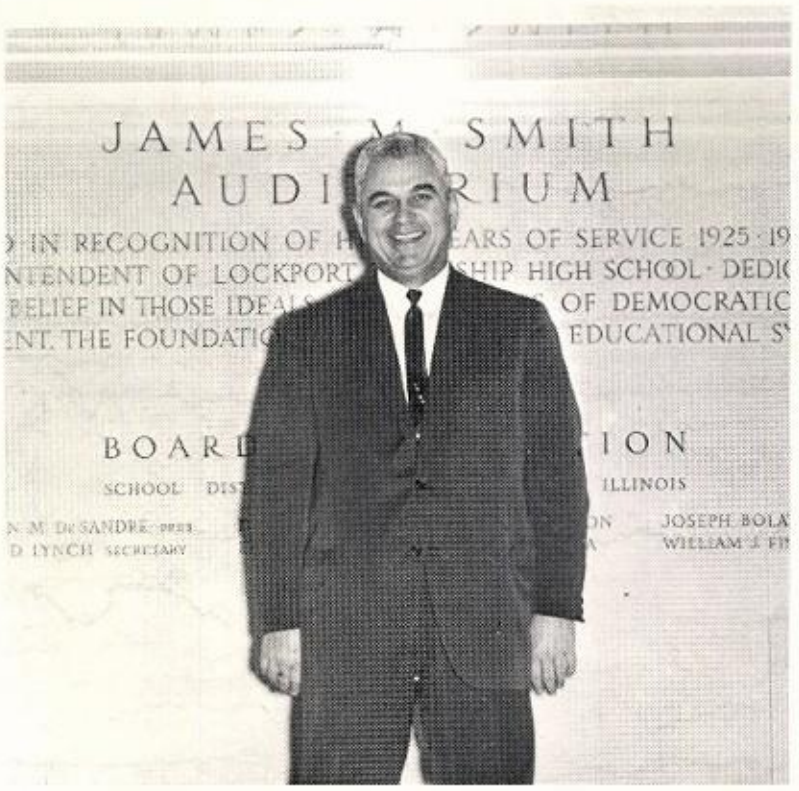
PERSONNEL

In order for a refinery to run smoothly, there must be men to supervise the work being done and teach the laborers working techniques. Our administration and faculty act as the supervisors of our educational plant. Working as a team, they instruct and guide each student in his field of interest. Our supervisors keep our educational plant running smoothly, thus education flows freely.



With a wondering smile Mr. Felix Borio, president of the Board of Education, faces each new problem.



A helping assistant to the president is Mr. William Babich, vice-president of the Board of Education.

Supervisors of Our Educational Plant

Composing the Board of Education are Mr. Lawrence Tendall, Mr. Willard Anderson, Mr. Ernest Swenson, Jr., Mr. Barney Welter, and Mr. Harold Finley.

Doctor Blatnik, superintendent, departs for home after facing a day of challenging problems.

Of Learning

Mr. Flink, principal, explains some of the duties to Mr. Rippe, the new assistant principal.

Mr. Aiken, curriculum counselor, files the results of the junior tests.

The 1963-64 school year of Lockport Township High School has been managed and supervised into a well-developed year of progress. The supervisors have been busy instructing their students to be well-blended individuals by the time they finish their high school days.

The Board of Education has worked with the community to provide a better and more advanced education for the students. Securing teachers and other necessary personnel to aid in the processing is one of their most important jobs.

Next year the processing will start over, but this year could not have been a year of progress without the combined cooperation of the administration, faculty, students, and community.

English is one of the most important subjects one can take in high school. Our English teachers give us a good background in the basic rules of our language and the different types of literature.

Writing themes, essays, and term papers is stressed, and senior English requires an autobiography from the students.

On the shelves of the school library there are biographies, novels, and reference books available to the pupils.

Foreign language is another phase of this department. Students are not only taught the basics of the language, but also are given a good cultural background with the help of books, tape recorders, and films. In our curriculum we offer Spanish, Latin, French, and German.

Students enrolled in the art courses are instructed to use plastics, to design motifs for decorations, and to apply skill with paints and crayons.

The industrial art students practice with hand tools, read blueprints, and plan projects, while mastering the principles of drawing.

The Choral and Band Department provide musical entertainment at several assemblies throughout the school year. The Spring and Christmas concerts are two of the major activities of this department. To promote enthusiasm of the student body, the band plays at all pep assemblies and home games.

Physical education plays a vital part in our program here at Lockport High School. Gym classes receive the required amount of exercise from games of baseball, football, volleyball, basketball, tumbling, and swimming. Good attitudes, fair play, and sportsmanship are emphasized. Health and Driver's Education are required in the freshman and sophomore classes.

The two main functions of the Science Department are to answer some questions found in nature and to apply the complicating principals of math. Science students probe into the magic world of the atom and study the fundamental processes of life. Those in math use their knowledge of our number system to calculate problems in algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and calculus.

The social studies department of Lockport Township High School realize that a knowledge of history is essential to understand the institutions of society in our own and other countries. The students can also learn the cultural development of other countries. Our five history courses reveal the centuries of struggle through which the race has passed to achieve its present stage of freedom.

Food preparation and sewing techniques are studied in home economics. The students learn the importance of proper foods for the diet. They learn management of time and money including child care and home nursing.

The aim of the business department is to prepare its students for future work in the office. Typing techniques, skills in shorthand, and business practice are taught throughout the department.

Counseling is a necessary part of education. With the aid of the counselors, our years in high school will be well spent. These willing and able people help us to choose the right courses, advise us in personal matters, and guide us to a promising future.

The Fact Finders

Recording the daily attendance is only one of the duties that Mrs. Manthey must perform.

Mrs. Sample, secretary to Dr. Blatnik and Mr. Smith, approaches the day's activities with a smile.

Ready, willing, and able is the password used by our foremen to keep the mass-production of our refinery going. Busy as they are they always find time to say a friendly "hi." These are the people who make Lockport High the well-managed plant it is.

As one of her duties, Mrs. Meader must keep the bookstore operating efficiently.

The everyday needs of the teachers and students are effectively fulfilled by Mrs. Mumaugh, Mrs. Geddes and Miss Babich.

As secretary to the Board of Education, Mrs. Ayers finds her day very busy but rewarding.

Mrs. Pratt, secretary to Mr. Aiken, handles all the confidential matters dealing with a student.

Fueling Is Our Function

Who's responsible for keeping our school so neat and in working order? The maintenance crew is constantly busy keeping the lawn trimmed, halls clean, and school facilities working properly.

The ladies working in the cafeteria face the rush hours between 11:00 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. These women not only serve the food but also arrive at school early and spend the morning preparing these meals.

After a hard day's work, the maintenance crew and cafeteria ladies take time out for a rest.

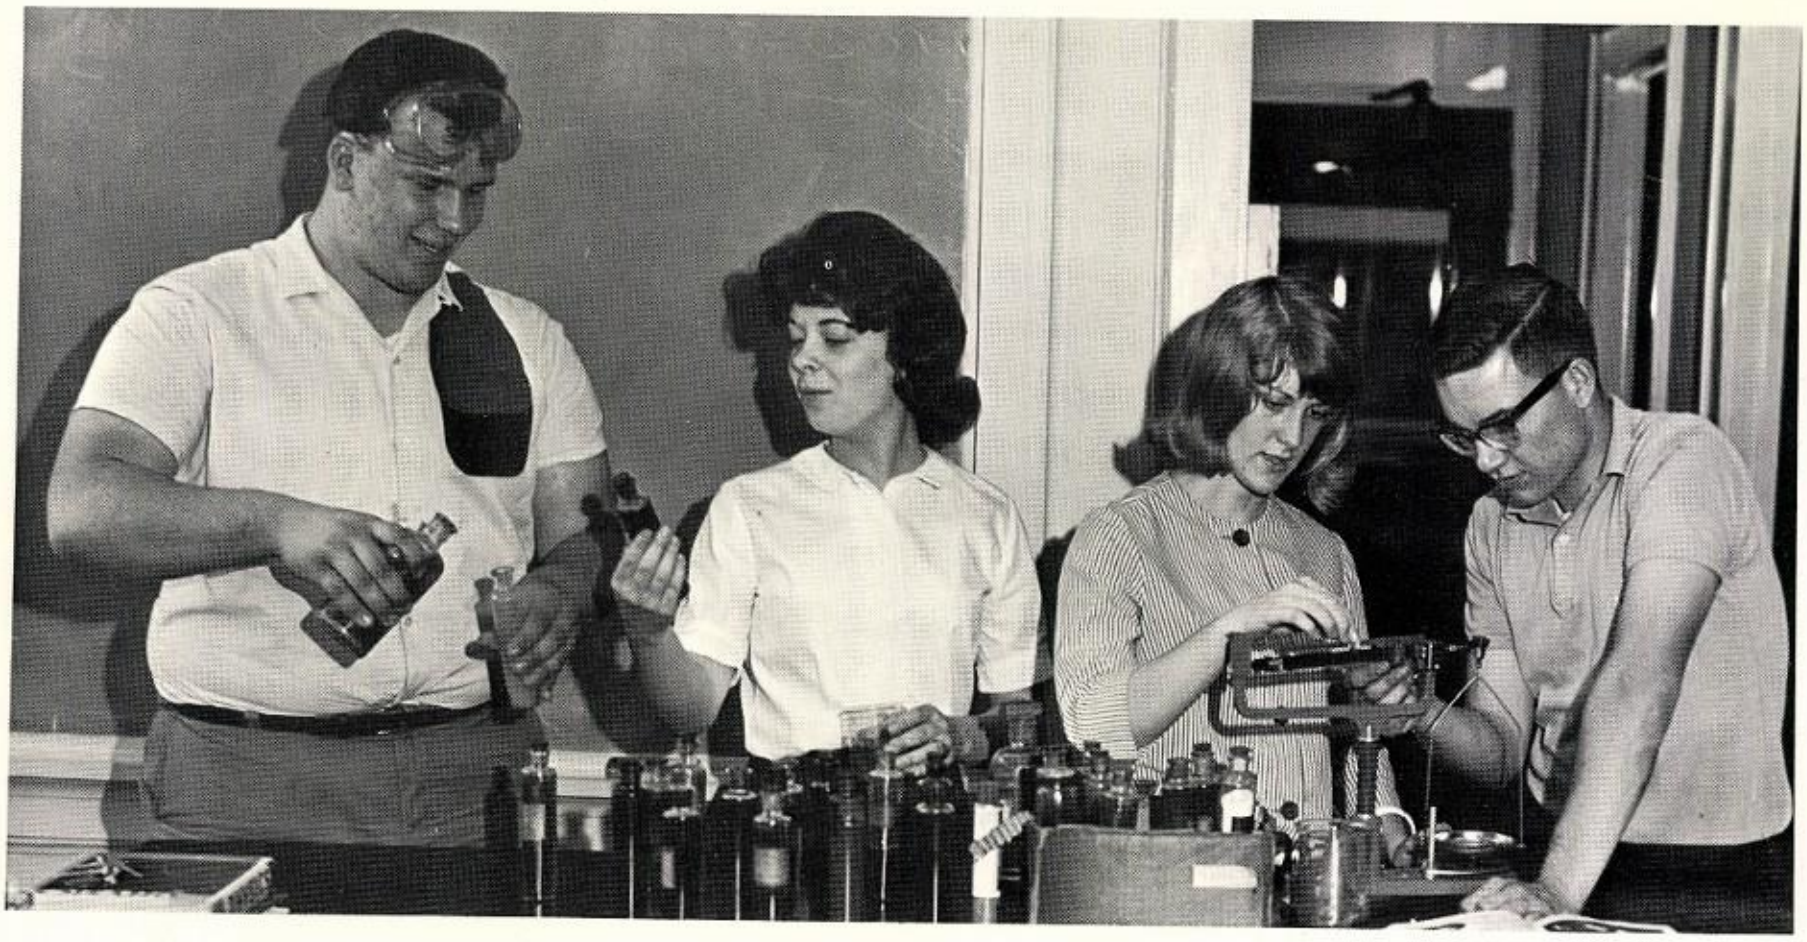
SENIORS

Seniors—the final product of a four year educational plant. As freshmen, the seniors began as newly discovered oil being pumped through an educational plant. Their path through the refinery was yet undefined. As sophomores and juniors, they were instructed further in the ways of education and refinement. As the years passed, opportunities in learning opened many valves to future occupations. Although the educational refining process at Lockport Township is completed for the graduating seniors, this lifelong process will endure for generations.

Beginning of an End



Chemistry is important to industry, just as leaders are important to a class: president, John Ammer; vice-president, Shirley Gray; secretary, Anne Murrie; treasurer, Ken Pesavento.

Yodel odle le he hoo

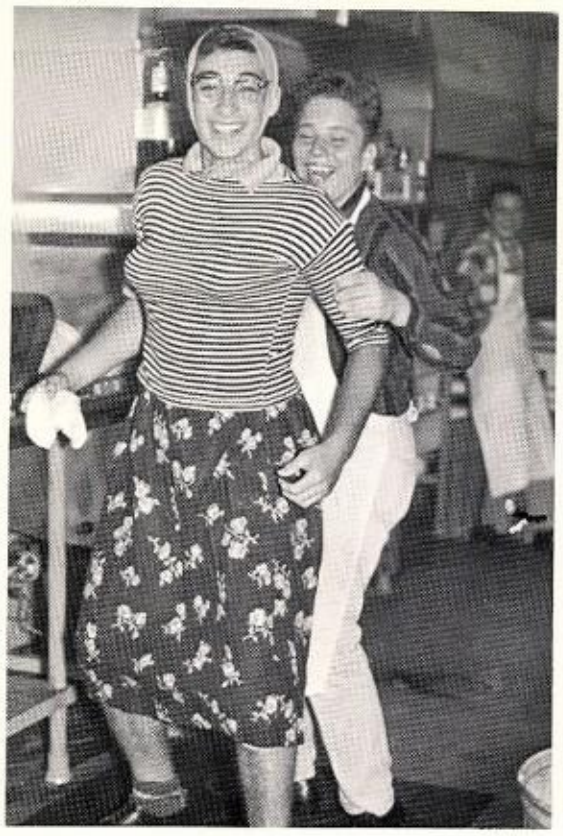
La—da da—da—da da—Charge!

Jammie time at Jerabek's.

Remember That

Ah-ah-ah-choo!

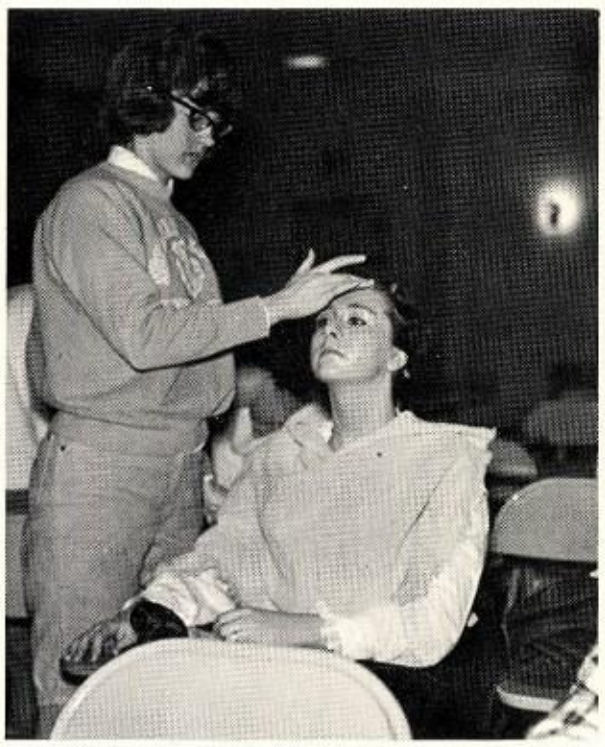
Me Jane, you done for.



Aw, come on fellas. Give a girl a chance.

P.T.A. mothers meet to discuss school dress code.

Ugh! How do you tell a girl she weighs too much.

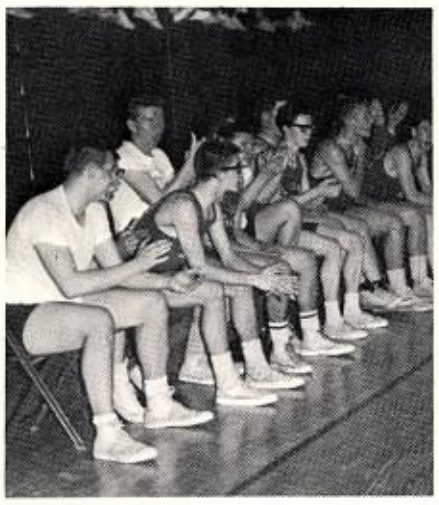


A wrinkle a day and in three weeks you're a prune.

Smarties at a party

Wonderful Year

Without looking at the legs, which one is the girl?

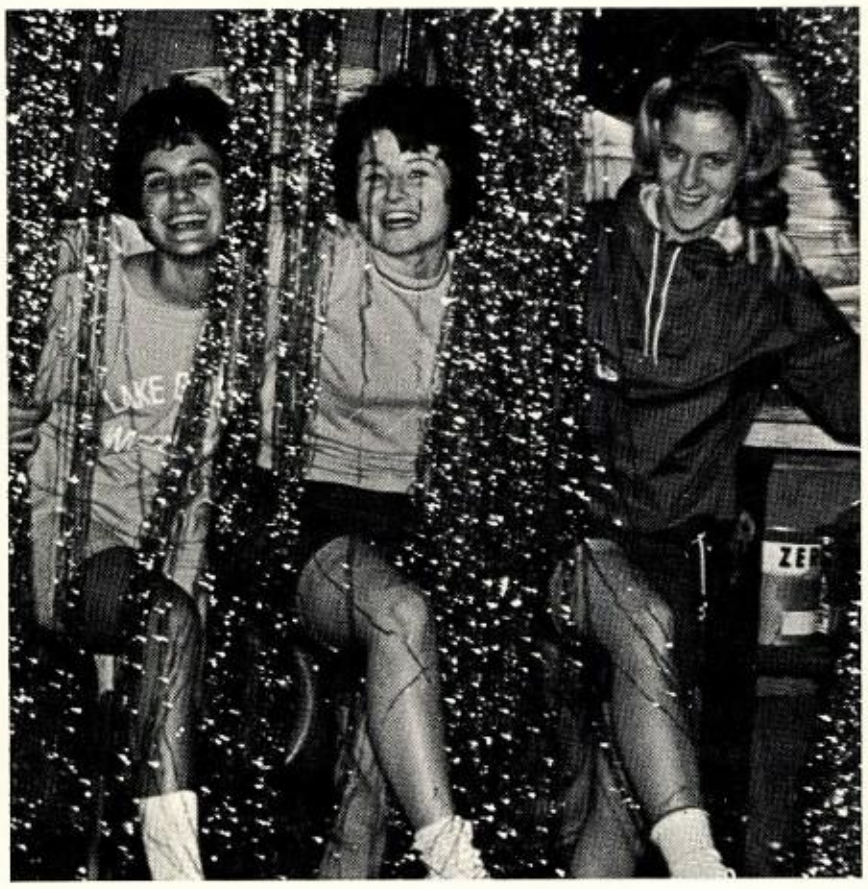


Will Billy black socks please stand up.

And another thing . . . you quit picking on my mommy.

High card gets the Honda for a day.

Plunk your magic twanger froggie.



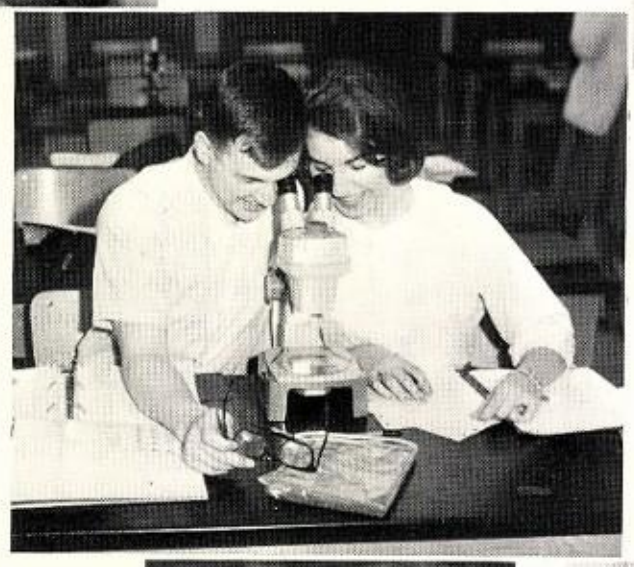
Going our way, bud?

Smirks and Smiles

Na na na na na na

Urp!

You geev Pierre beeg keess, no?



tsk!

A little hanky-panky going on.

You a spy? We'll cut your eye.

Ny-tol

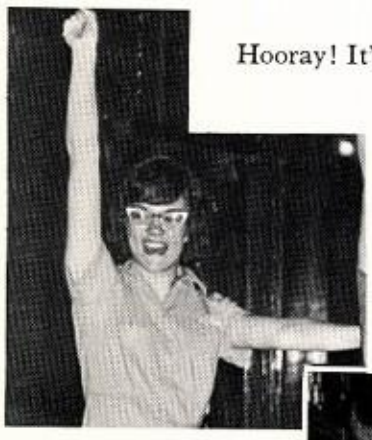
Miss Priss

I'm utterly disgusted.

That little ole wine maker, Mark.

Same to you fella.

My teeth itch.



Hooray! It's National Jello Week.

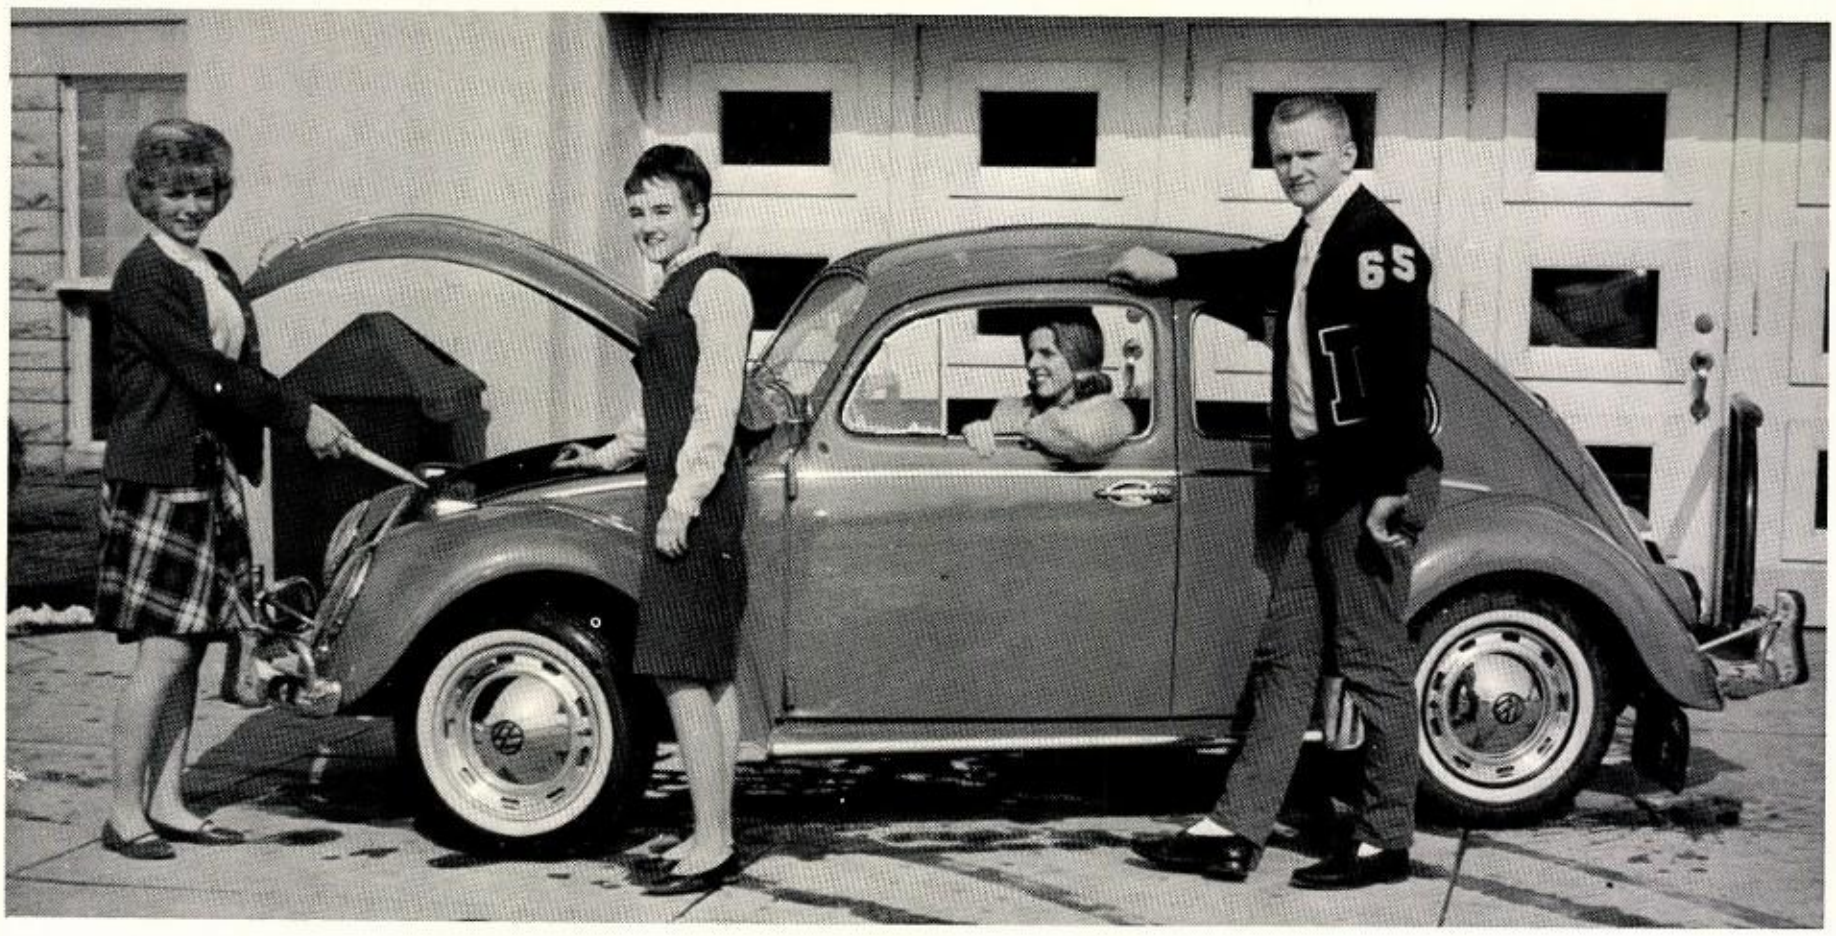
Minnie mouth

Chatterwhale rides again.

CLASSES

A well-rounded education is the basis for a refined person. We strive for and attain such an education through constant contact with all the materials and instruments offered to us in our plant. Books, paper, pencils—these all contribute to our pool of resources.

Using these facilities to the best of our ability will, in the end, produce a product of education.



With a VW, a little bit goes a long way, or so thinks class president, Debbie Lindstrom; along with Connie Beavon, secretary; Carol Nordstrom, treasurer; and Gary Bond, vice-president. What those Germans can't do!

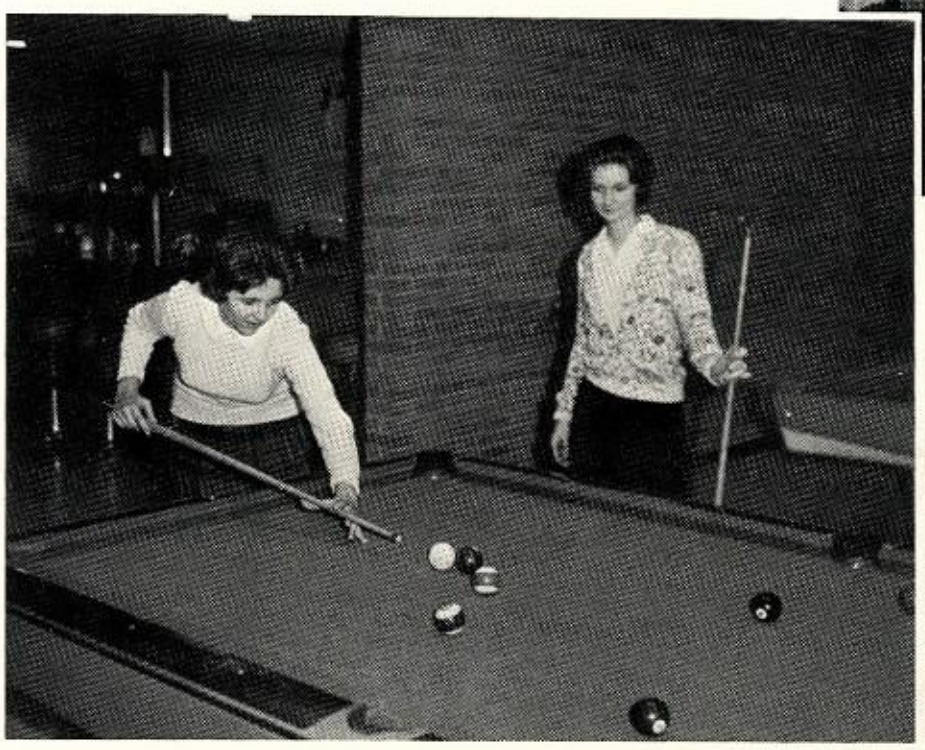
Freshmen

We bowled 300 . . . together.

How do you top a horse? Tep on the turrip.



You've got trouble with a capital "T" and that rhymes with "P" and that stands for pool.

Ankles away!

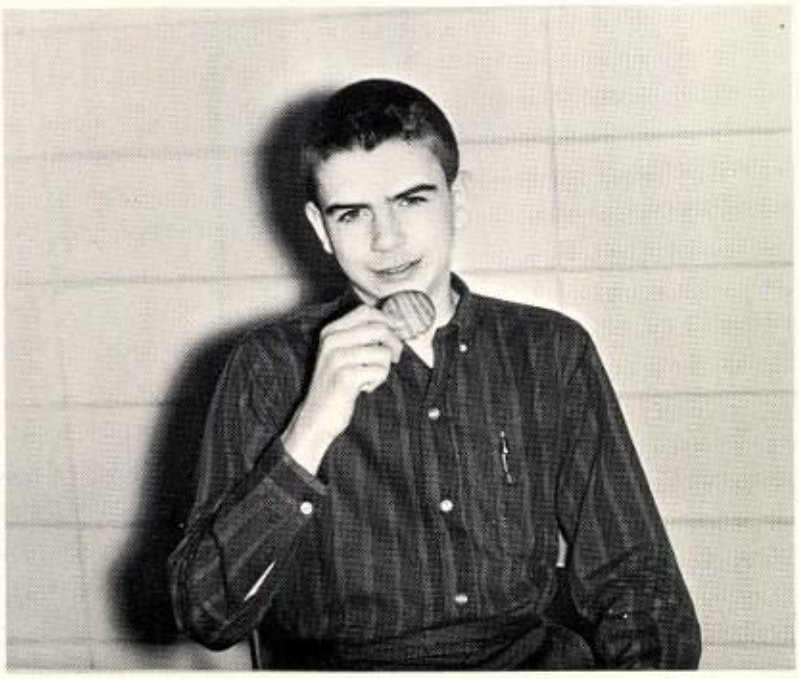
If you don't watch out, I'll change you into a chair, too.

Funnies

It's simple! You put your fingers like so and blow.

Fee, fi, fo, fum! I smell our float burning.

A step in time-oops! I'm over the line.



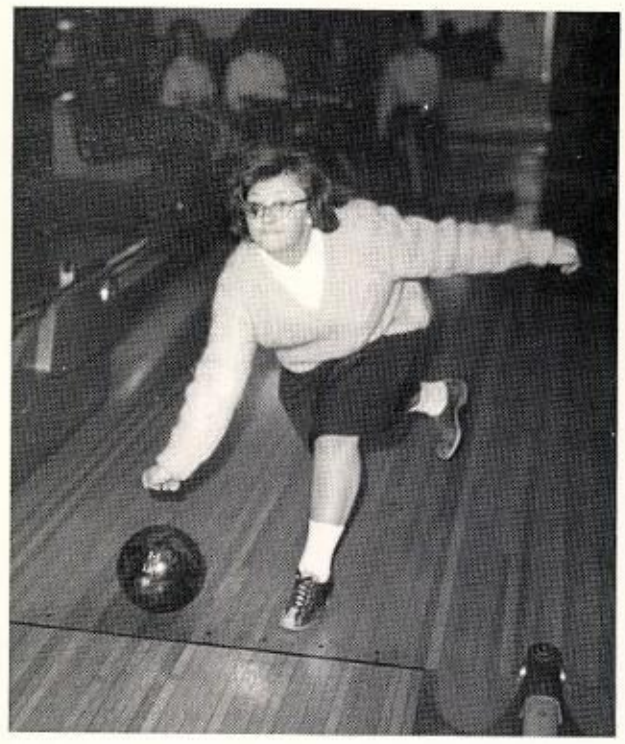
Little girls have pret-ty curls, but I like peanut butter cookies.

Dong-g-g-g! What shall I fix for dinner tonight!

We want our Maypo!

Porter Pandemonium

Love is blind.

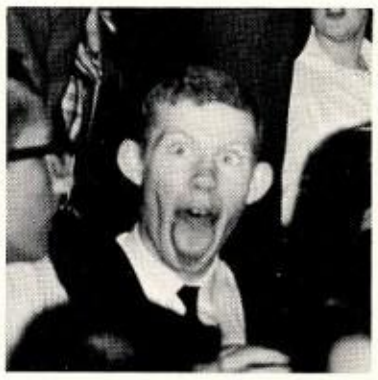


One, two, three, slide, trip, crash, boom, bang.

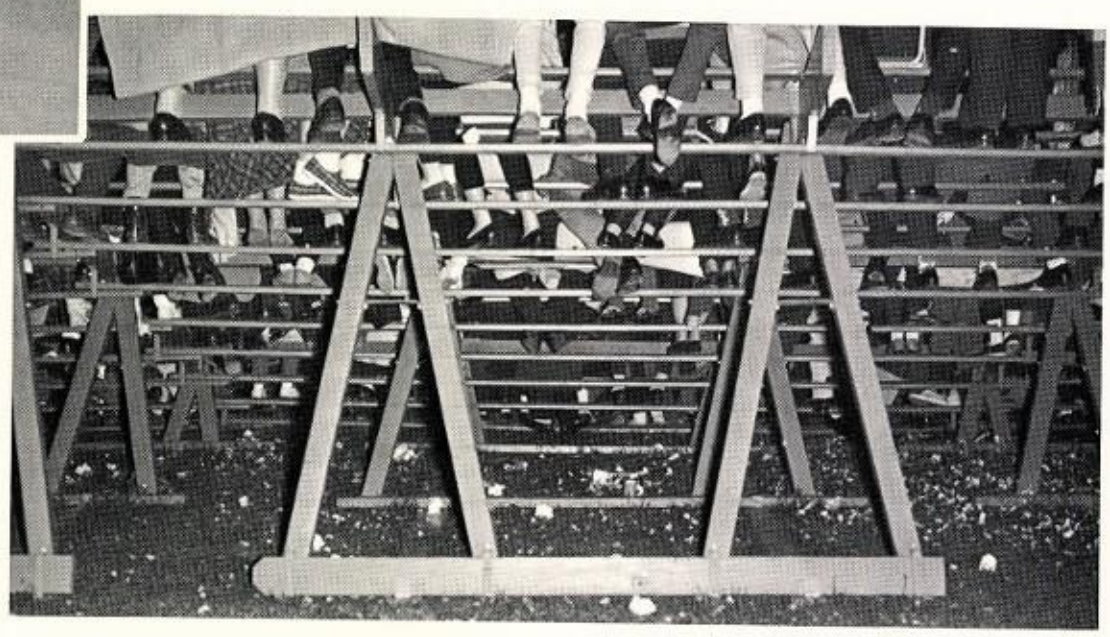
Beatle Beavon

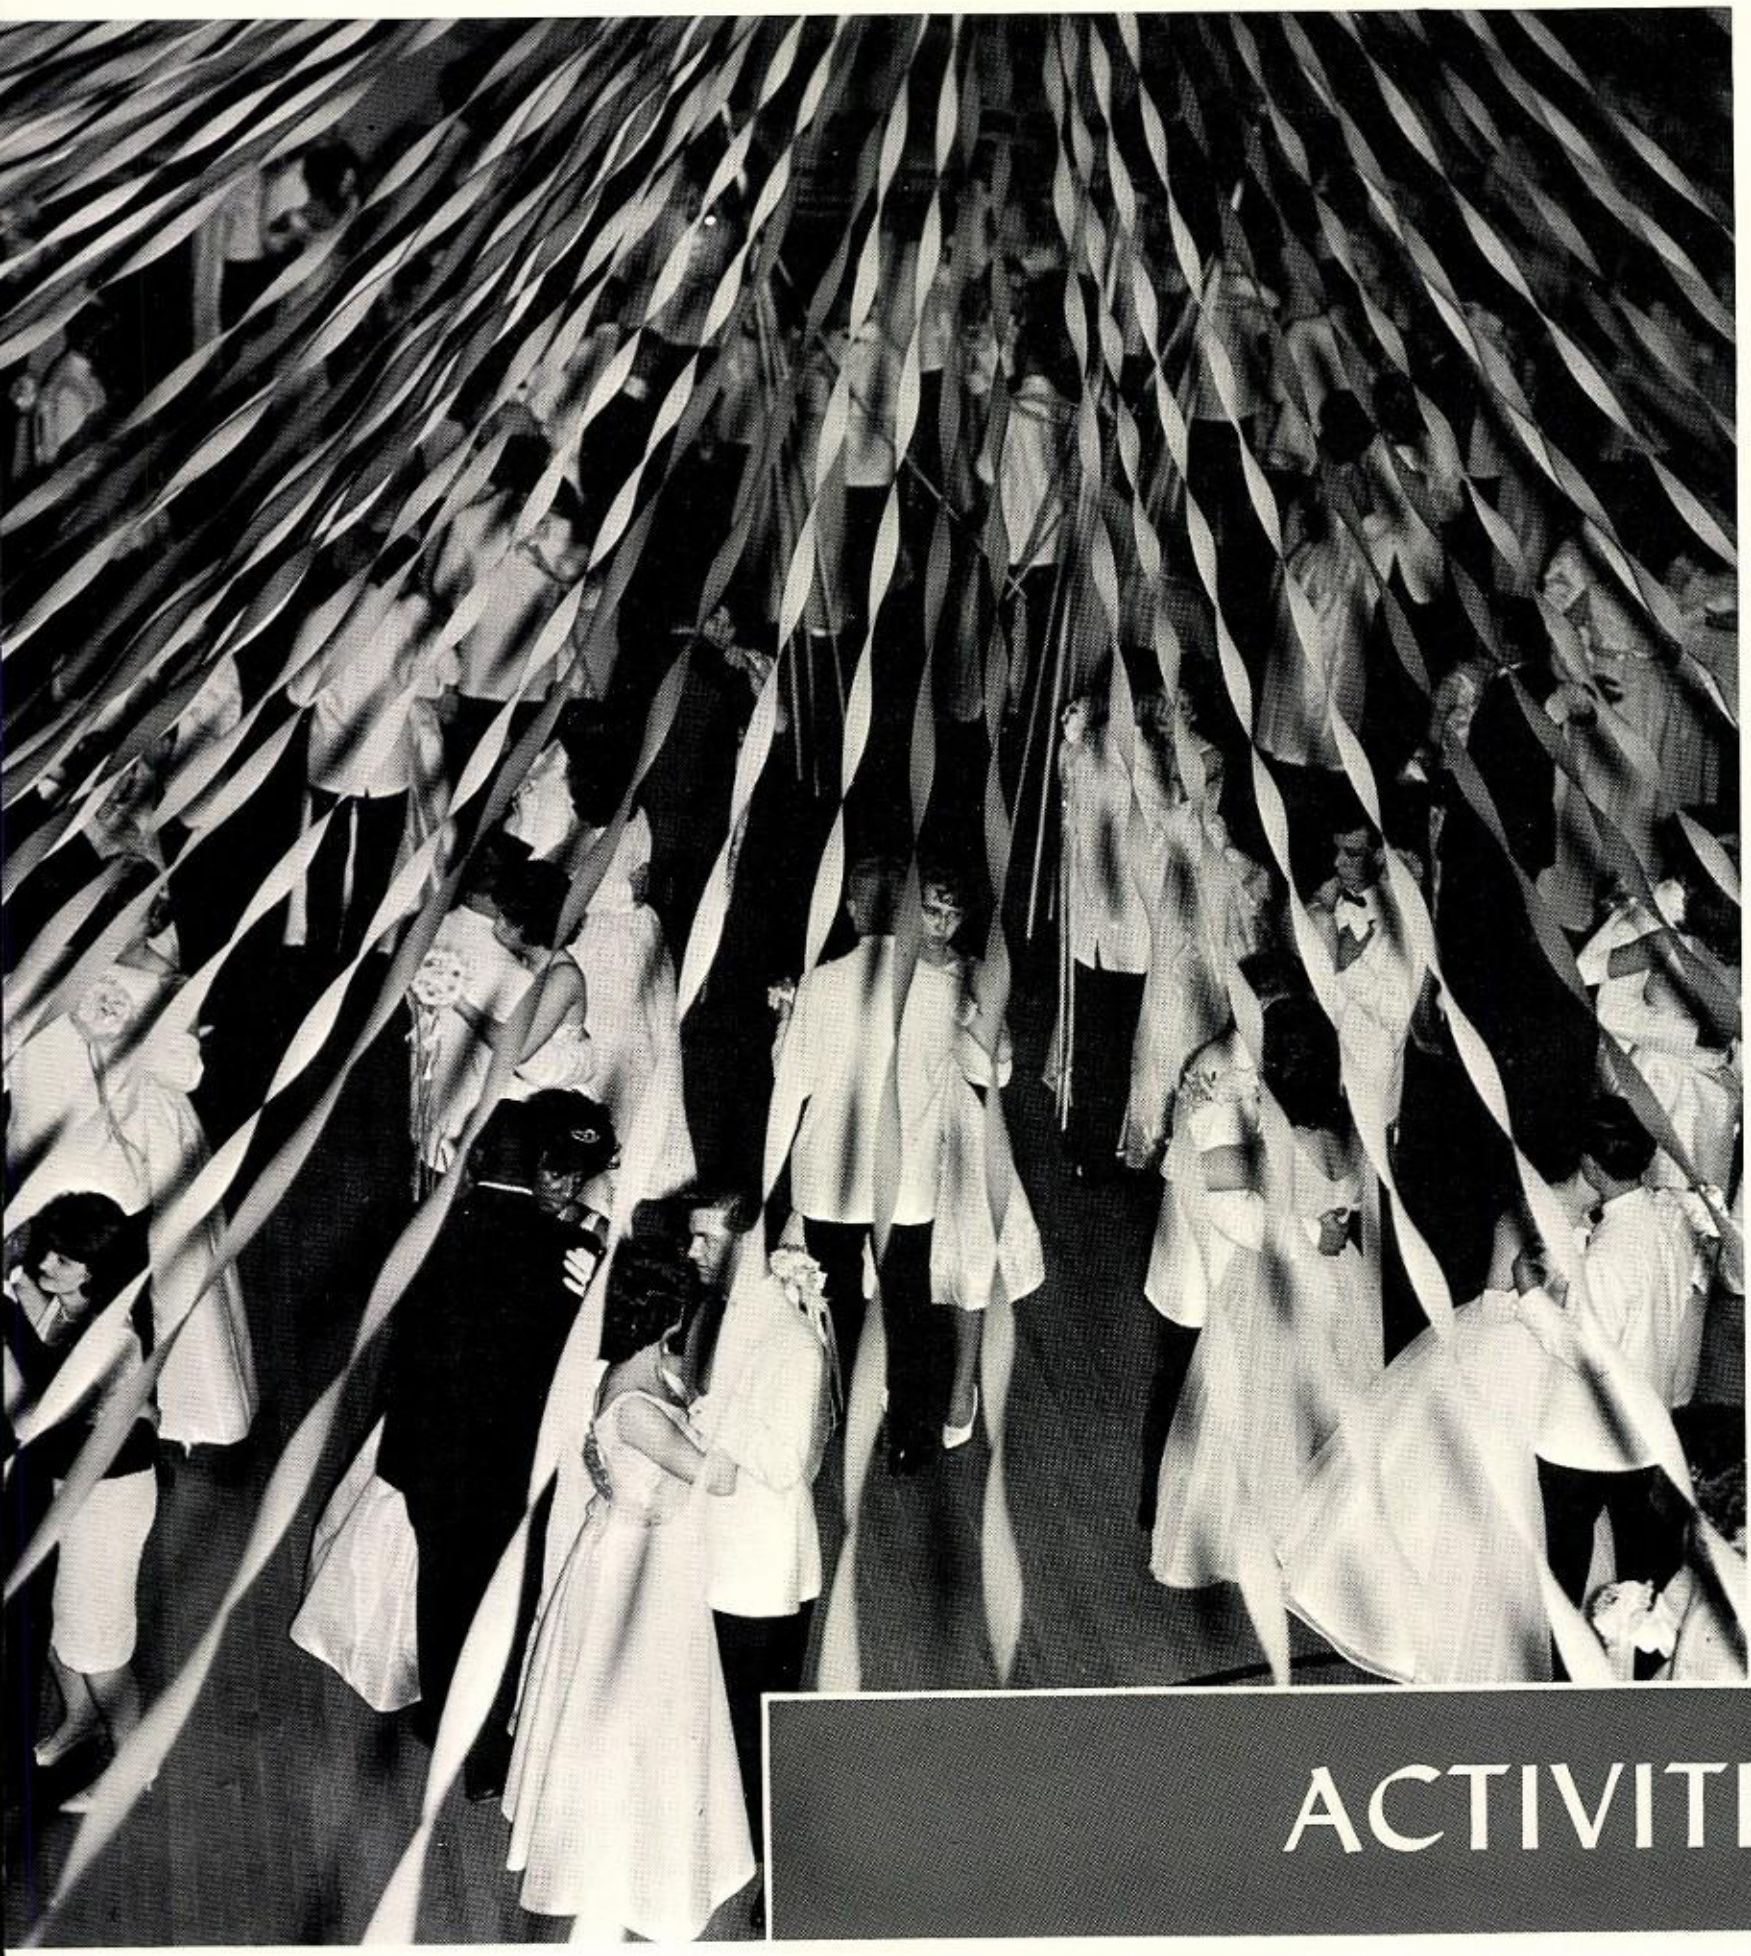
Pigeon-toed, bunion-toed, peppy pack of Porter people.

My mommy said I could be first.



A long playing 33⅓ mouth.





ACTIVITIES

Just as there is a deviation from the refining process of the oil industry, so there is a similar deviation in the educational system. The students of Lockport Township High School seem to fulfill these needs through various year-round activities. Fall anticipates the arrival of traditional Homecoming while Spring poses the scene for the Junior-Senior Prom. All these activities leave the students with friendships and memories not soon to be forgotten.

P-O-R-T-E-R-S, a sign made by the Pep Club, and the avid cheering crowd boost the Homecoming spirit.

Homecoming

King Jerry Anderson

On Friday, October 15, at 2 p.m., the halls of our high school emptied, and the surrounding streets filled with students, teachers, and townspeople awaiting the first sign of the Homecoming parade.

Leading the parade was the Lockport Township High School Band, followed by the floats, walking units, and Queen Fran Affrunit and King Jerry Anderson. When the last of the parade moved by, a crowd of spectators gathered at the athletic field, where a pep session and the announcement of the placing floats was held.

"I enjoy being a girl," says Queen Fran Affrunti to co-captains Don Spink and Bill McSherry.

Queen Fran Affrunti

The evening event for the fifteenth was the Lockport vs Blue Island game; at half time the parade of winning floats, Queen Fran and her court, and the band routine were viewed.

Homecoming festivities carried over to the evening of the sixteenth when alumni and LTHS students danced to the music of the "Jaguars" in the gymnasium.

As the last event of Homecoming ended, students and alumni made their way from the gym remembering the thrills and excitement of a Homecoming, now past.

Nancy Green and Letterman Club member, Bob Johnson, admire traditional Homecoming mums, which are ordered by the student body.

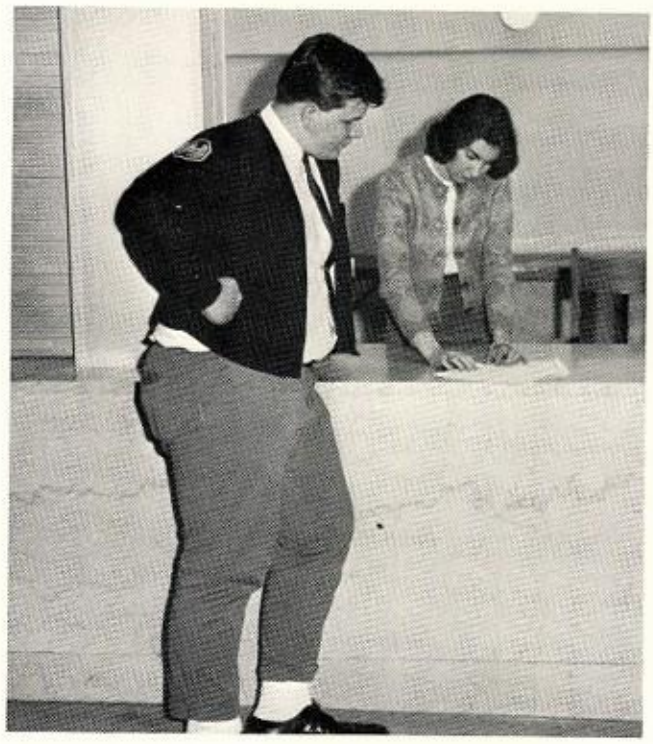
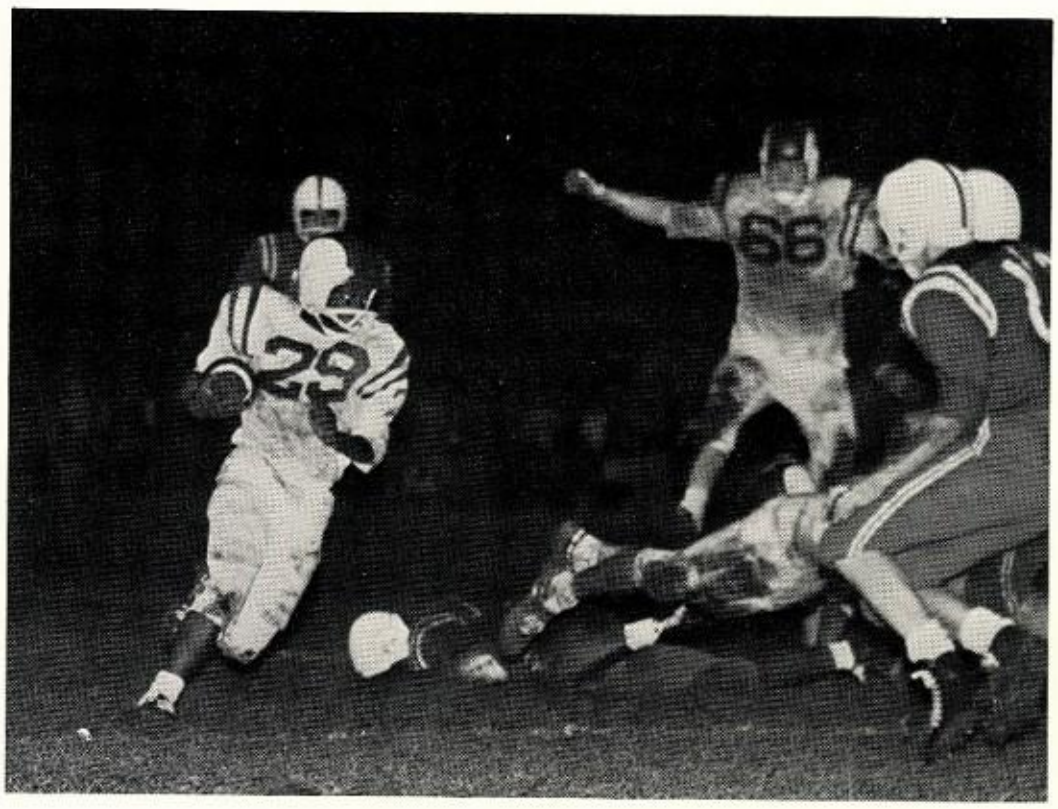
The king and queen reigned over "Kick-Off-Caper" with their court: freshman attendant, Betty MacFarland and escort, Leroy Campbell; sophomore attendant, Barbara Swansboro and escort, Ron Kelly; Queen Fran and King Jerry; senior attendant, Beverlee Partak, and Curt Carroll; and junior attendant, Debbie Lindstrom and escort, Mark Dedin.



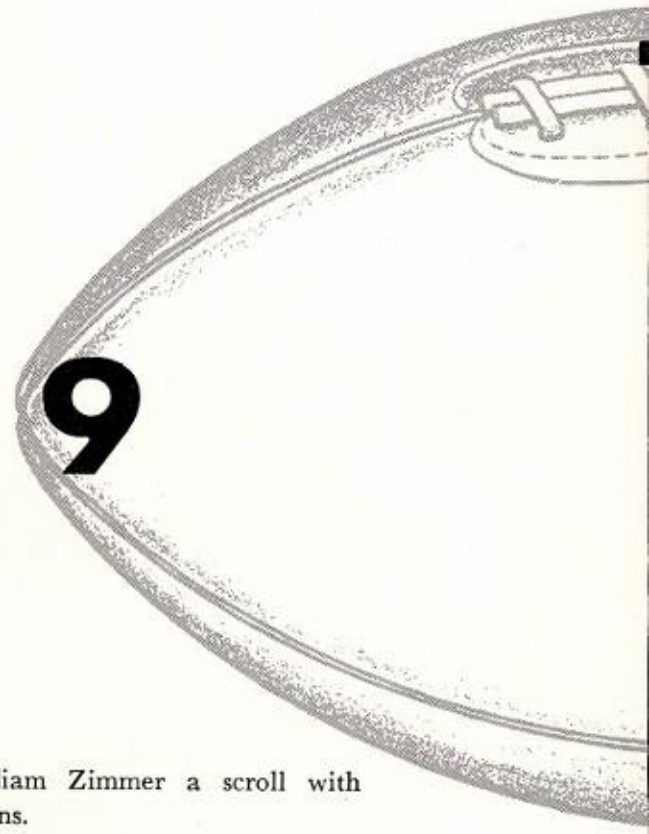
Marcia Frampton, Homecoming co-ordinator, discusses homecoming plans with senior class president, John Ammer.

Sally Horschler points out that we seniors "best hurry" if our float is to be done on time.



Dave Sims makes a quick cut-around to baffle Eisenhower's team.

Time Traces



During the pep assembly held at the Athletic Field, Steve Etter presented Mr. William Zimmer a scroll with names of the student body on it, which truly displayed the enthusiasm of the Porter fans.

Rich Powers, Drum Major, leads the Homecoming parade in his usual rhythmical form.

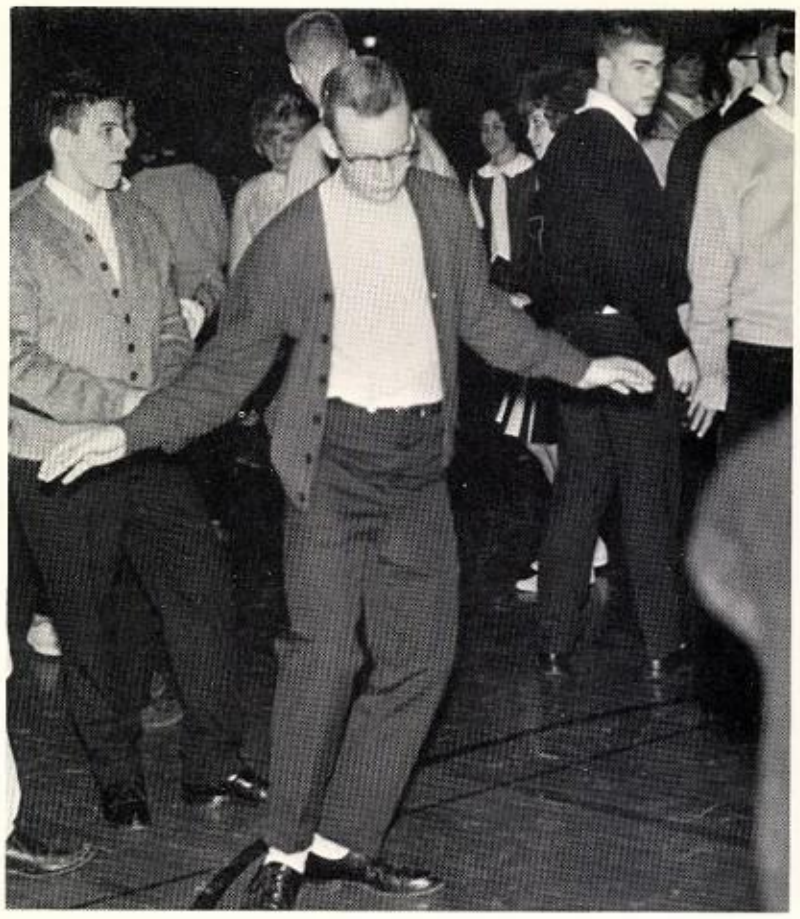
Tradition

"Knock' 'em Cuckoo" was the slogan of the second place float belonging to the sophomore class.

King Jerry and Queen Fran smile to everyone as they pass by in the royal car.

Sorry, John, no Beatles allowed.



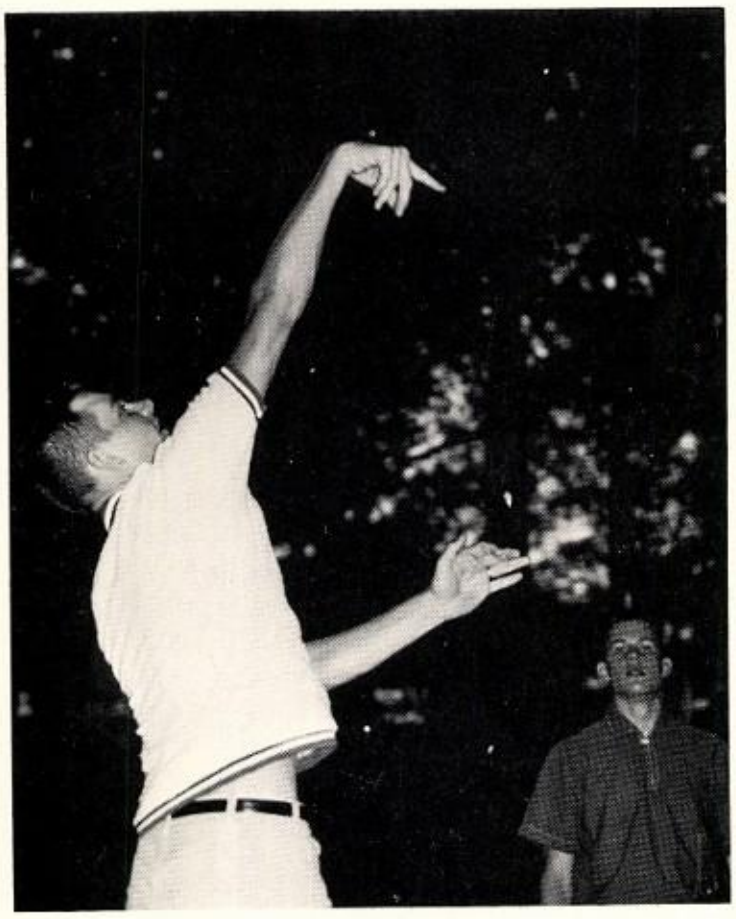
Ready—now first position.

Twist 'n Shout

But I feel so silly.

Sponsored by the LOCK staff, these casual dances give Porter fans a chance to get together after an exciting game. Each dance features a local combo. For dancing, for planning the weekend, for hearing the latest news, or for discussing the game, the Lock Staff Dances are always fun.

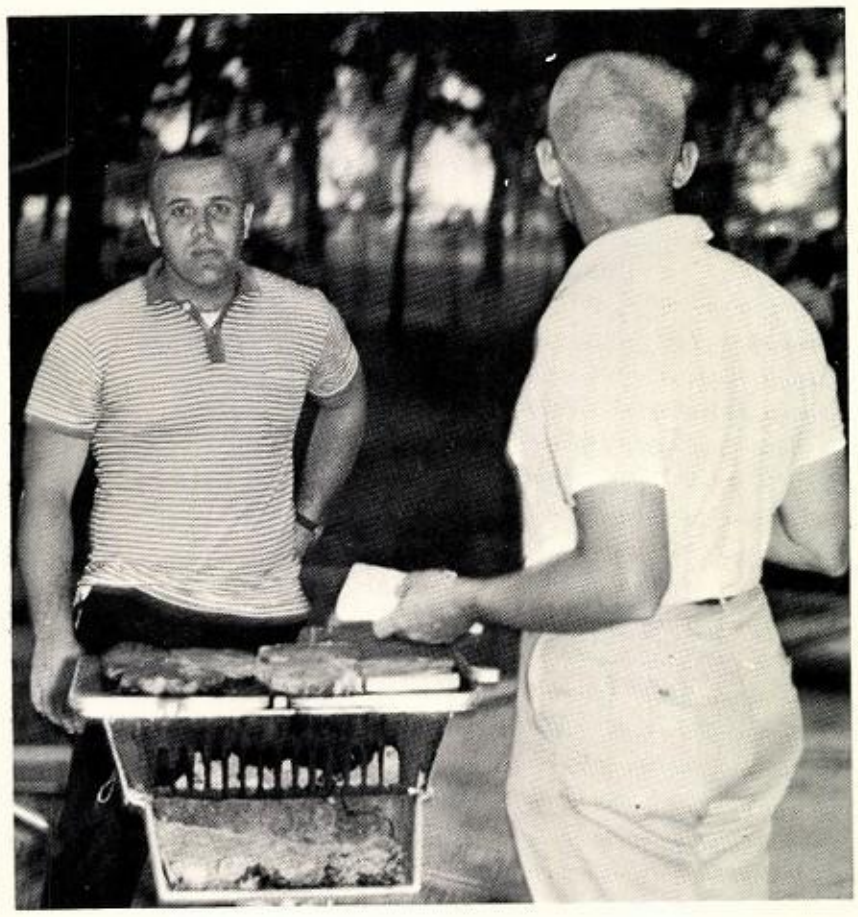
Is there a gorilla catcher in the house?



One grecian urn.

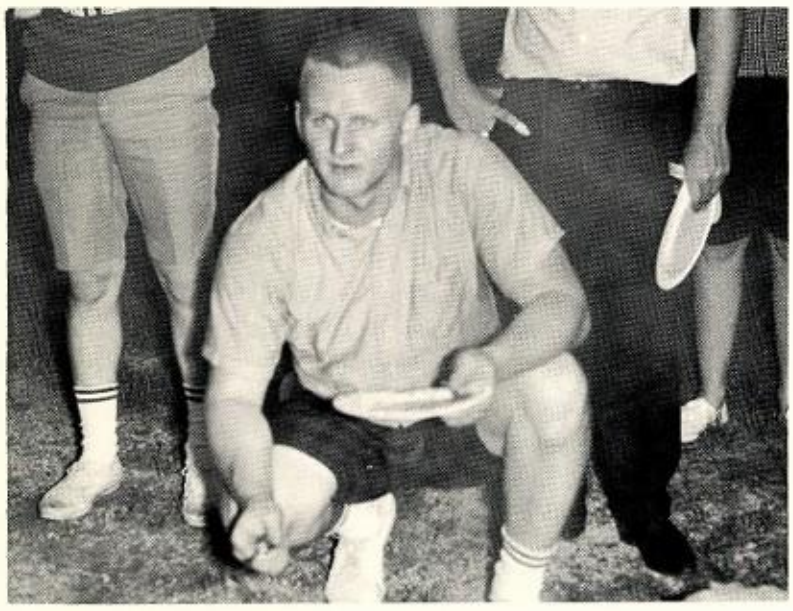
"But Mr. Bean, I told my wife we were having steak, not shish-kabob."

Lettermen's Luau



"Yea, and I'm gonna eat all those steaks myself, wanna make something of it."

The Lettermen's Club had a picnic on June 6 of this year at Dellwood Park. The coaches of all varsity sports served as sponsors of this gala affair. Steak dinners, provided by the club treasury, were served to the "L" Club members and their dates. Although this was their first picnic, the Lettermen hope to make this an annual event.



"What do you mean all that's left is hamburger?"

Queen Marianne Rossetto and King Ken Pesavento proudly reign over the festivities of "Wonderland by Night."

Scott Lowtwait and Liz Rink pose amid pine boughs and snowflakes.

Wonderland by Night

A dramatic change swept over the Lockport High School cafeteria on the night of December 30 in the form of the annual Christmas Dance, "Wonderland by Night."

The evening's activities began at eight thirty p.m. and continued until eleven thirty p.m. while the many couples danced amid snowflakes, Christmas trees, and other frosty decorations. Santa Claus was present to add to the festivities, and the crowning of Queen Marianne Rossetto and King Ken Pesavento highlighted the evening. When the dancing drew to a close, everyone was reluctant to leave the Winter Wonderland, but it was evident that all felt that the evening was the highlight of the whole holiday season.

The carefree smiles of Debbie Lindstrom and Bill Drost portray the enjoyment that the dance provided.

Elated Marianne smiles as band officers crown her queen.

Jan Major and Bonnie Jacobson put the final touches on the decorations for a perfect springtime evening.

February 15 was the date chosen for "Younger Than Springtime," the annual Student Council Dance. This year as in the past, the dance was held in the school cafeteria. From eight o'clock until eleven thirty, couples were captured in an atmosphere of flowers, butterflies, and birds. A sidewalk cafe provided a resting place for the couples present. The coronation of the royal couple, Marcia Frampton and Bill Drost, added to the enchantment of the evening. Throughout the cafeteria could be heard the musical strains of the Gene Victor Orchestra. As eleven thirty neared, the couples began to leave always to remember this evening in early spring.

Younger Than Springtime

All couples present enjoyed the enchanting music of the Gene Victor Orchestra.

Judy Habenicht, Jay Batson, Penny Morse, and Tom Strandburg take a little time out for refreshments and some conversation.

The day began early for Juniors, Kathy Sharp, George Kurey, Diane Weller, who helped complete the most essential part of any Prom, the decorations.

This coke party, a prelude to Prom festivities, is a delightful beginning of a glamorous evening for Jack Pastore, Pat Fracaro, Diane Rambo, Mike Dubrovich, Bob Coon.

Upon arrival, Midge Kozak and escort are warmly welcomed by class officers and committee chairmen, Carol Nordstrom, Jerry Pochynok, Connie Beavon, Gary Bond, and Debbie Lindstrom.

Couples, Rich Powers and Bonnie Jacobson, Gary Jurgel and Gail Stockbar, enjoy themselves amid the beautiful decorations of Fantasia.

Rosy Mist of Spring

The day sparkled, sunny and bright, on May 2, 1962 as juniors hastily added the finishing touches to the Prom decorations. But all was in readiness as elegantly dressed couples arrived after being feted and photographed at coke parties and at home. They were greeted by a fantasy of rosy-hued color and crystalline shapes, here to spend an evening of enchantment. A late supper, an early breakfast, and a picnic under the sun completed this unforgettable occasion—a big weekend and a fitting conclusion to a big year at LTHS.

To end an unforgettable week-end Scott Lowtwait and Marlene Goodale relax amid sun, sand, and sea.

"The Perfect Idiot"

On November 14 and 15 at 8:15, the curtain rose to reveal the Junior's presentation of "The Perfect Idiot." Headed by Mr. Sheffield, Mr. Shields, and student director Carol Nordstrom, the performance was a roaring success.

The play is a farce about an unpopular boy genius who agrees to tutor the school's all brawn-no brain athlete, if his friends will pretend to like him. Of course all does not go according to plan, and the results are unexpected and hilarious.

After many Junior plays have come and gone, "The Perfect Idiot" will be remembered by everyone, and especially by those in the cast who worked so hard to make it a "perfect" success.

"The Death and Life of Larry Benson"

In a portrayal of married life, Doug Corniels and Cheryl Ward add a touch of humor to this scene.

The Senior class presented their play, "The Death and Life of Larry Benson," on March 19 and 20. The audience was held in suspense from the opening line of this three act drama.

As the curtain opened, the Benson family was making preparations for the return of their son Larry from the army, but he never returned. A boy did arrive at the Benson home who had been a close friend of Larry's, almost a brother. As the scenes of the play followed, the assumed Larry Benson found it hard to fit in with the Benson family. After constant quarreling and misunderstanding, the mysterious boy was accepted into the Benson family.

Thriving oil industries all over the United States provide the population with various fuels for industry and home. The year-round sports at Lockport High provide the student body with the fuel for a live and sparkling school.

Let's give a cheer for the fine performance given by the 63-64 cheering squad. The seven pepsters, three seniors, two juniors, and two sophomores, kept school spirit and sportsmanship at its peak.

Under the capable guidance of Miss Zuzag, the cheerleaders worked hard in their two hour weekly practices. Their work resulted in new and different cheers and a well-organized squad.

One of the highlights of the school year was our exciting football season. Led by Coach Bill Zimmer and his assistants, Mel Deskin and Larry Vance, the Porters compiled a fine record of six wins against three losses. This put us in fourth place in the tough South Surburban League.

In the opening game of the season, the Porters managed to edge Carl Sandburg by a slim margin. The Porters dropped their next game, however, to Joliet Catholic by only seven points. A week later Bloom, the conference champ, just managed to gain a victory over the men of Lockport. After two defeats in a row, the men of the gridiron were not to be denied. The team romped their next two opponents, Argo and Kankakee. A shadow was cast over the Homecoming festivities as the home-town boys fell for the last time, the defeat being inflicted by Eisenhower of Blue Island. By far, the most outstanding game of the season and probably one of the most rugged games ever played at the Lockport Athletic Field was the contest against archrival Joliet Township. The extra points made the difference as the Porters managed to snap Joliet's winning streak of twenty-three straight games. The ol' Porter spirit came shining through that night as the team completely devastated the Steelmen in every phase of the game. The victory resulted in our school being chosen the Chicago area WLS Team of the Week. They finished the season by stopping Thornton and Thornridge by large margins. The best way to summarize the season is to quote the words of Coach Zimmer, "This is the hardest working group of boys I have ever coached!"

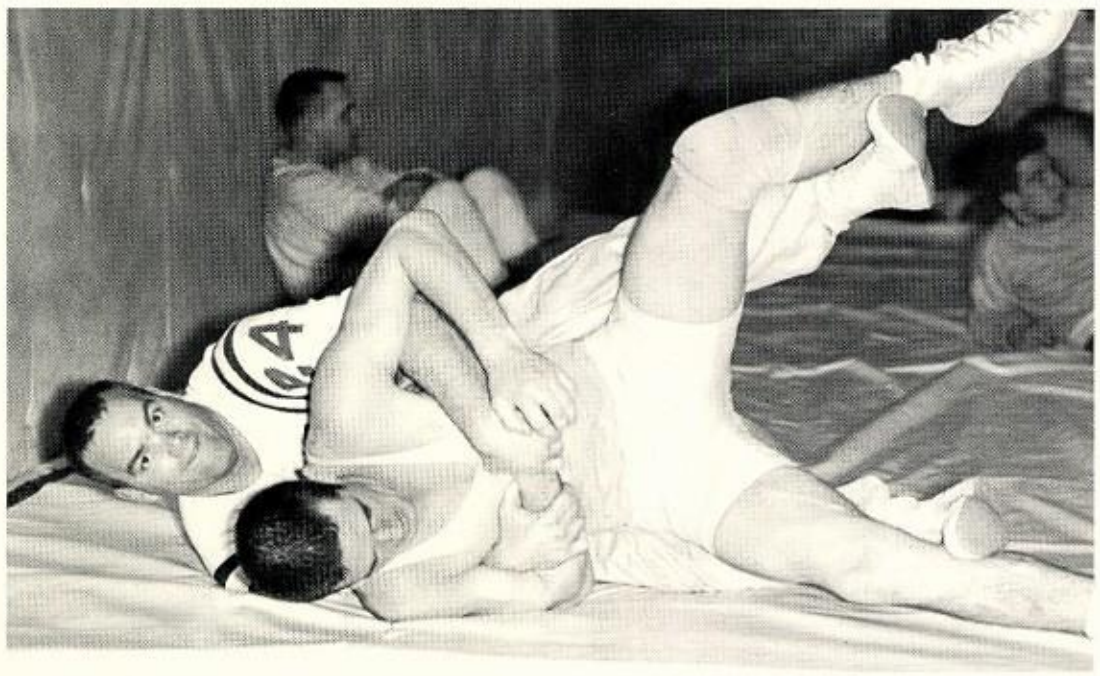
Winning Season



Under Coach Zimmer's close surveillance, Gordon Astrom learns a new hold.

Sam Easley and Jim Townsend won the honor to represent Lockport in the State Wrestling Meet.

Lockport's varsity wrestlers posted a record of seven wins, six losses, and one tie. They placed fourth at conference. Under Coach Zimmer's guidance our wrestlers captured second place at district, fifth place at the sectional and scored in the state contest. This year's record was a big improvement over last year's record, but next year, with nine out of twelve varsity wrestlers coming back, Mr. Zimmer is looking forward to an even better year.

Individually there were many outstanding wrestlers. Sam Easley and Gordon Astrom placed second at conference. At district Townsend and Anzzolin placed first with Astrom, Easley, and Margentina placing second. At the sectional Easley received first, Townsend a second and Astrom a third. Townsend and Easley represented us down state.

Coach Bill Connors led his outstanding Porters to one of the most successful basketball seasons at Lockport.

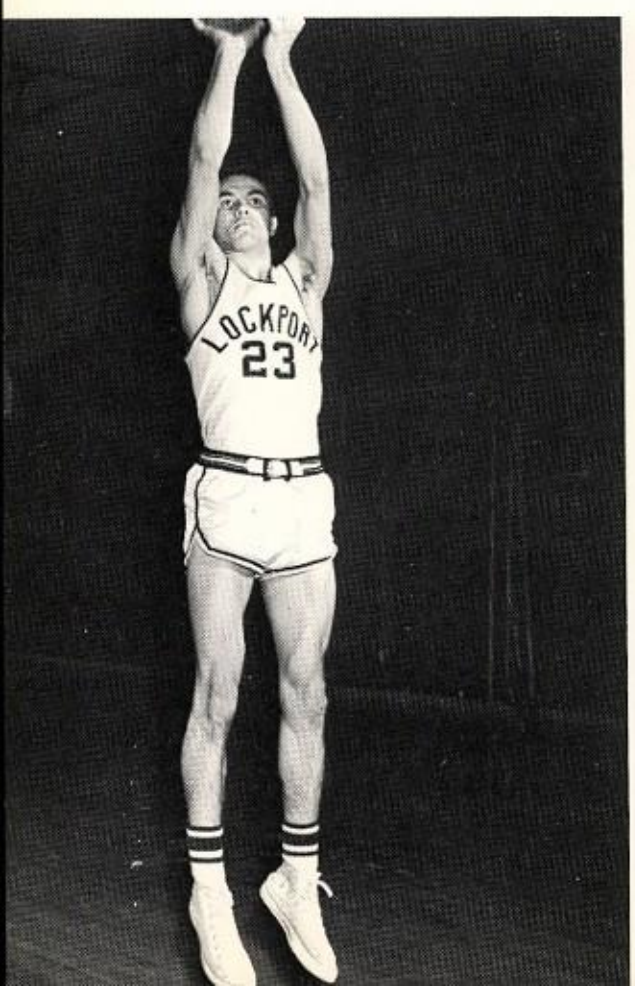
This year the Lockport Porter basketball team compiled its best won-loss record in fourteen years. Twenty-one opponents fell to the mighty Porters. Among the five teams that managed victories over the cagers were Chicago champion Crane Tech and State Champion Pekin. The team won the Lockport Invitational Tournament, placed third in the Pontiac Holiday Tournament, and won the coveted South Suburban League crown. In winning the conference, Lockport won twelve of its fourteen encounters, losing only to Joliet and Bloom in enemy territory.

The team certainly set a school record by playing in three overtime engagements with two of them lasting twelve minutes. In the first of these extended contests, the Porters squeaked by Thornton; the latter proved to be the last game of the season as it occurred against Joliet Catholic in the Regional Tournament.

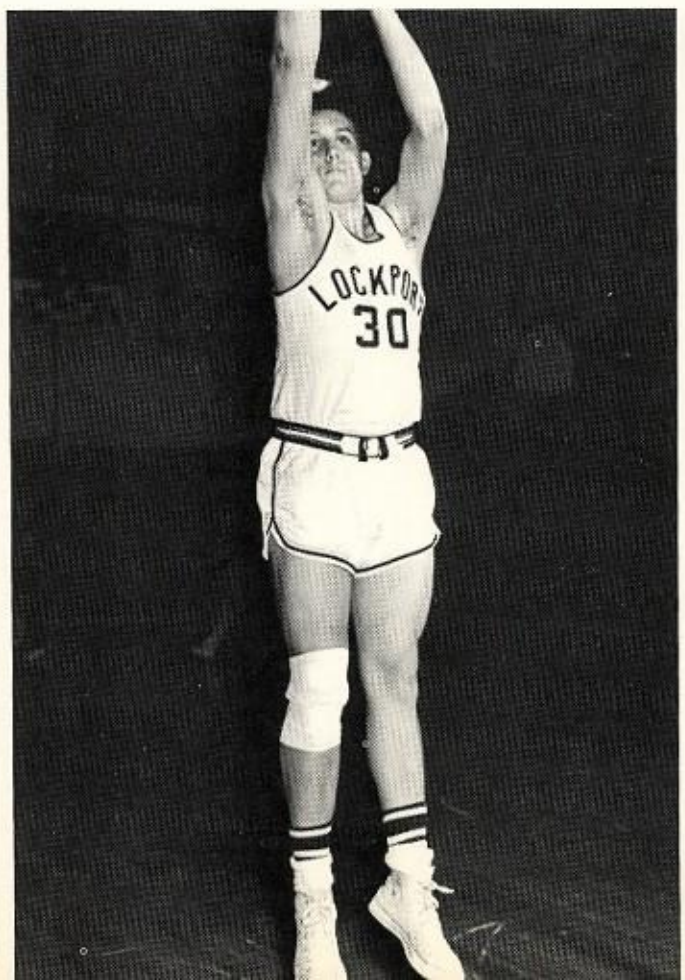
The Porters secret to success throughout the season was hustle, balance, determination, and a fine coach by the name of Bill Connors. Since coming here seven years ago, Coach Connors has a total won-loss record of 122 wins and 59 losses for a .674 percentage.

Cagers

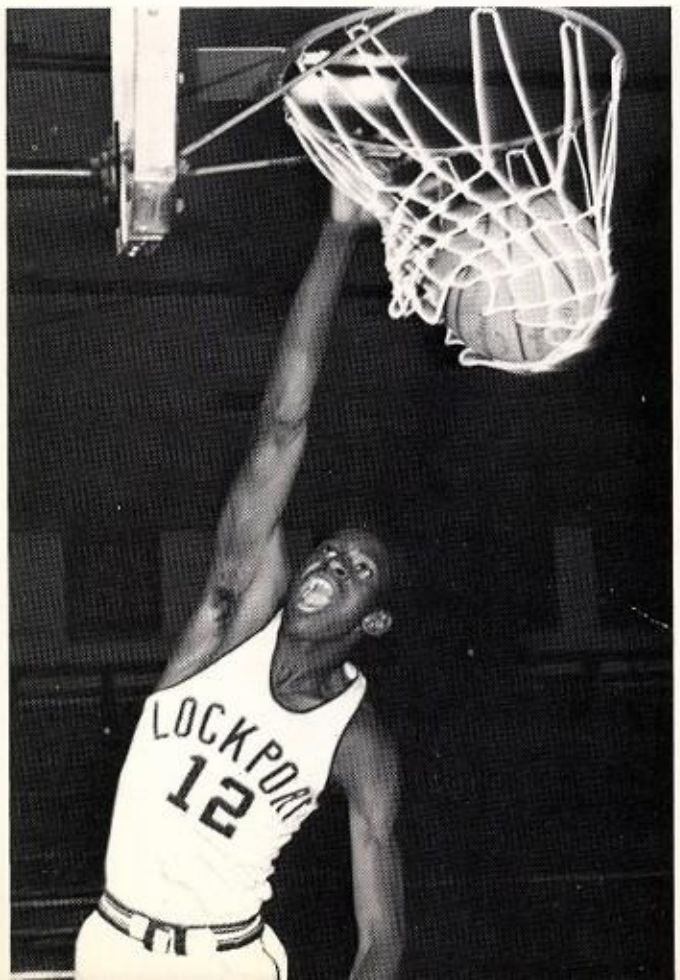
All-Conference forward Len Barney gave plenty of hustle to the powerful Porters.

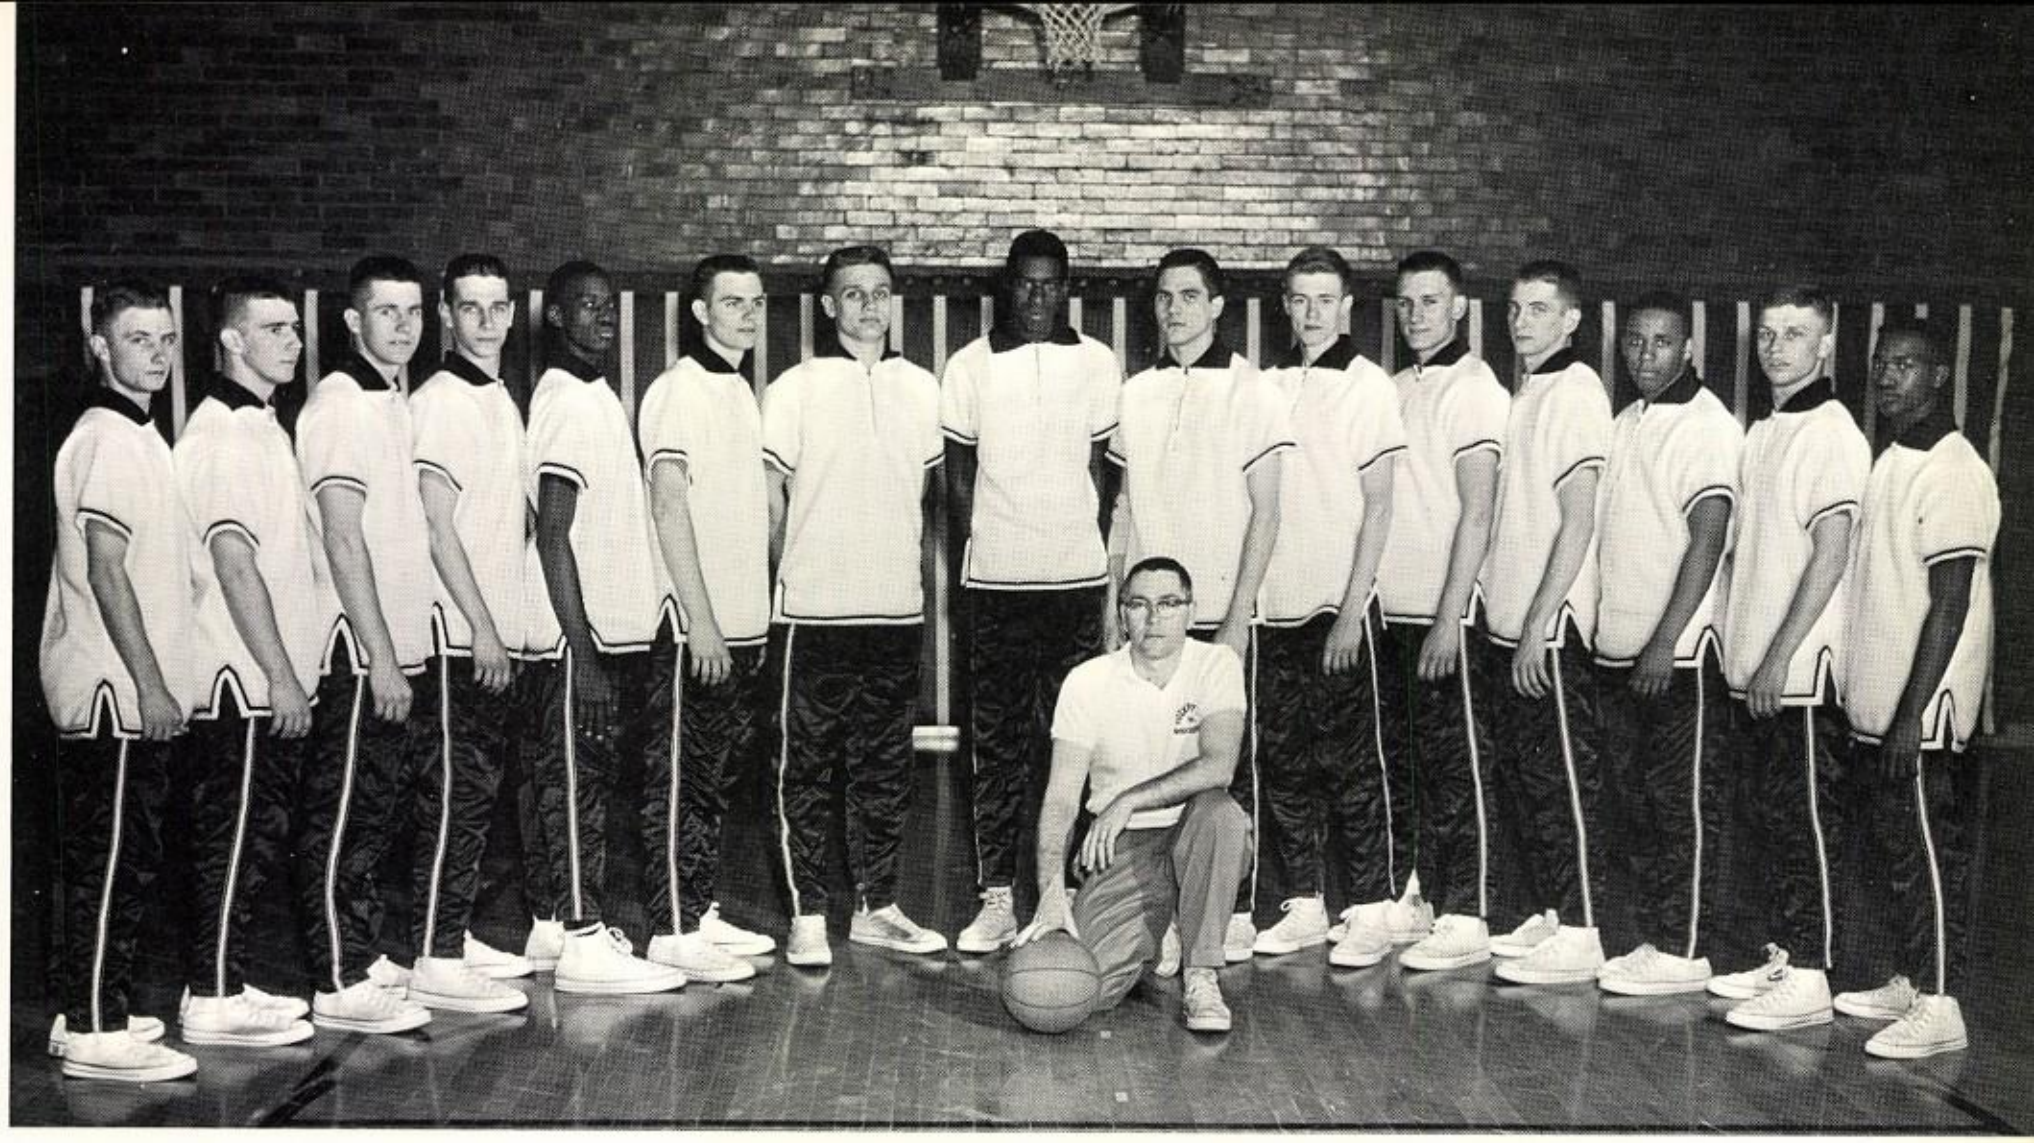


Mike Murawski, second team All-Conference choice, stopped many opponents with his tremendous shooting touch.



Sophomore Bill Ford, All-Conference center and All-Suburban team member, was this year's leading scorer and rebounder.

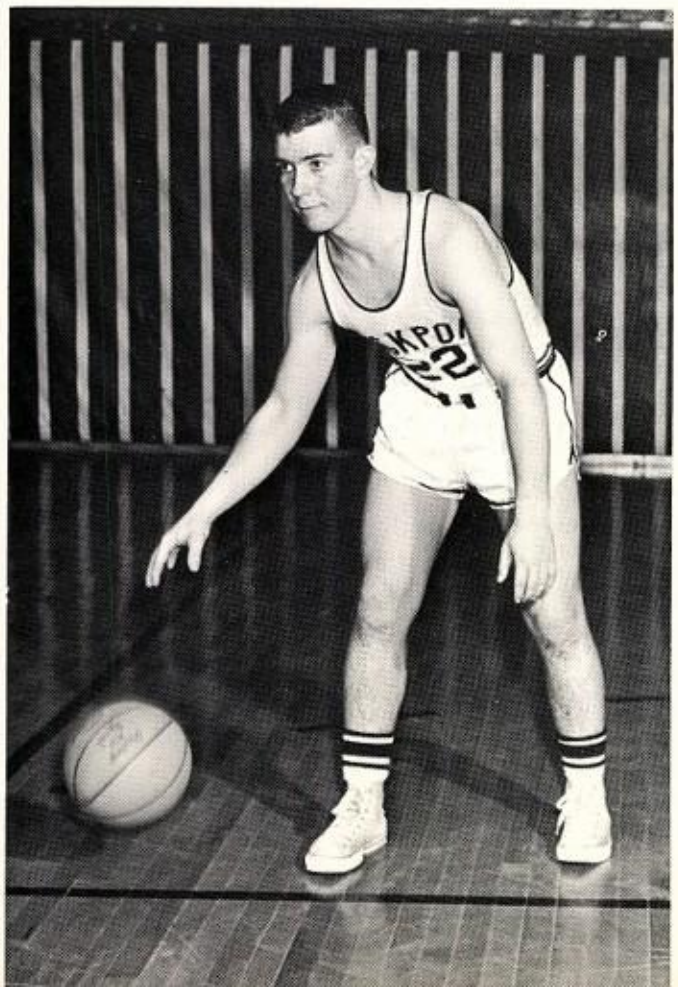




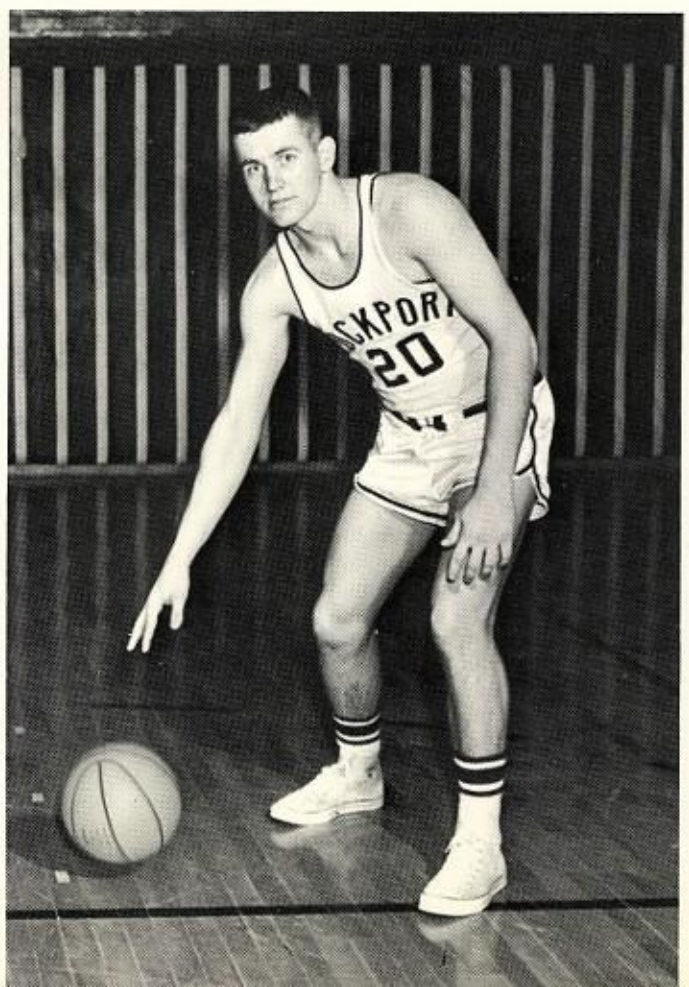
J. Mau, J. Anderson, D. Spink, J. Kalmes, T. Thomas, R. Meader, R. Hanna, B. Ford, L. Barney, J. Carter, M. Murawski, B. Johnson, A. Hickman, J. Mau, F. Chandler and Coach Connors.

Capture Crown

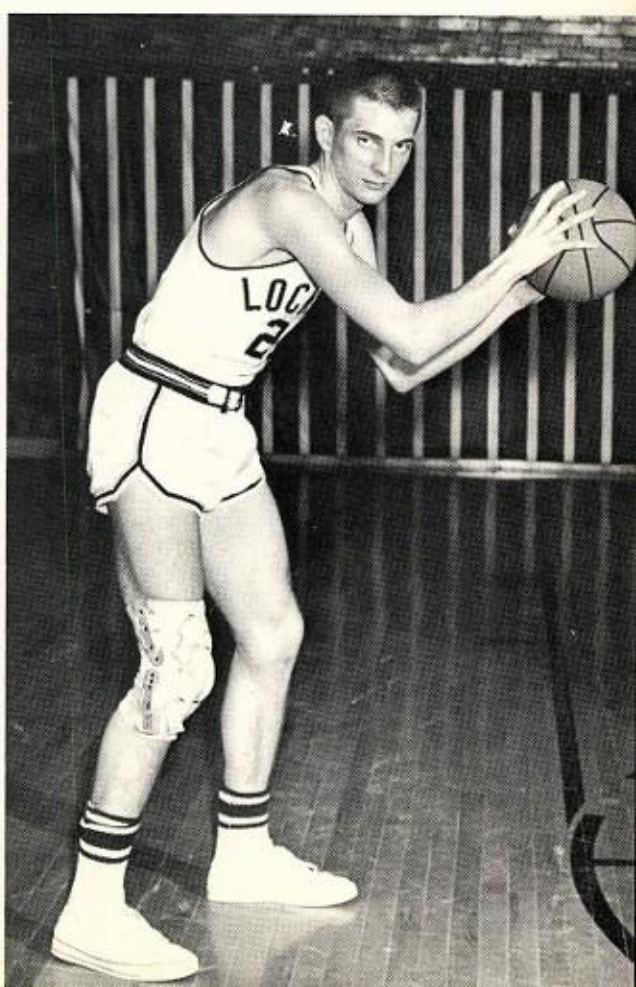
Jerry Anderson was this year's floor general and leader in assists.



Cool Doc Spink gave a tremendous boost to the team with his steady play.



Bob Johnson proved to be a valuable reserve for the Porter five.



Although surrounded by five opponents, Len Barney easily lays up another skillful shot.

On March 23, 24, and 25, the Interclass Tournament, which is sponsored by the "L" Club, was held. The senior team, a tournament favorite, consisted of former basketball players and park league participants.

The faculty had a team of fine coaches and athletically inclined teachers. The challenging seniors gave the faculty a tough game, but as the final gun sounded, the faculty had proved victorious.

Mermen Meet in Medleys

Although the varsity swimming team didn't win the South Suburban Conference, they smashed records in four events. They had many returning juniors and seniors who added strength and experience to the team. The sophomores were a team which displayed hard work, desire, and good coaching. Because of their speed these boys broke eleven records.

The freshman squad was made up of ambitious boys hoping to make the varsity squad their junior year. Only four freshmen, however, were able to make the sophomore squad. They were Nick Zager, Scott Thomas, Stan Etter, and Dick Doyle. Both Mr. Beseman and Mr. Fornoff agree that these boys are the beginning of a very promising varsity squad.

TOTAL—6 WINS 8 LOSSES

The Porter dugout is a picture of earnestness, desire, and even floating baseball caps.

Due to a lack of pitching, the Lockport baseball team managed to post a season record of only six wins against eight losses. The Porters jumped off to an excellent start by defeating Lincoln Way, Naperville, and Lockport West. From then on, the Porters found their opponents especially tough and, as a result, were on the losing end of six of seven South Surburban League games. Their lone victory came over Thornridge. Lemont and Carl Sandburg were the next two opponents to bow to the Porters. Playing under the Athletic Field lights, the team lost their final encounter of the year to Wheaton High School. The team this year was led in hitting by junior Mike Murawski who batted a very fine .457. Mike also repeated on the All-Conference team for the second straight year.

All season the team was sparked by exceptionally high spirit, determination, and hustle.

Denotes Determination

The split second action is captured as Gary Hartz lays down an imperfect bunt.

Batting and fielding practice are the secret to success, and the Porters were no exception in this department as shown by Mike Murawski and Mike LeGrand.

Next year's varsity baseball team will be greatly bolstered by these experienced underclassmen.

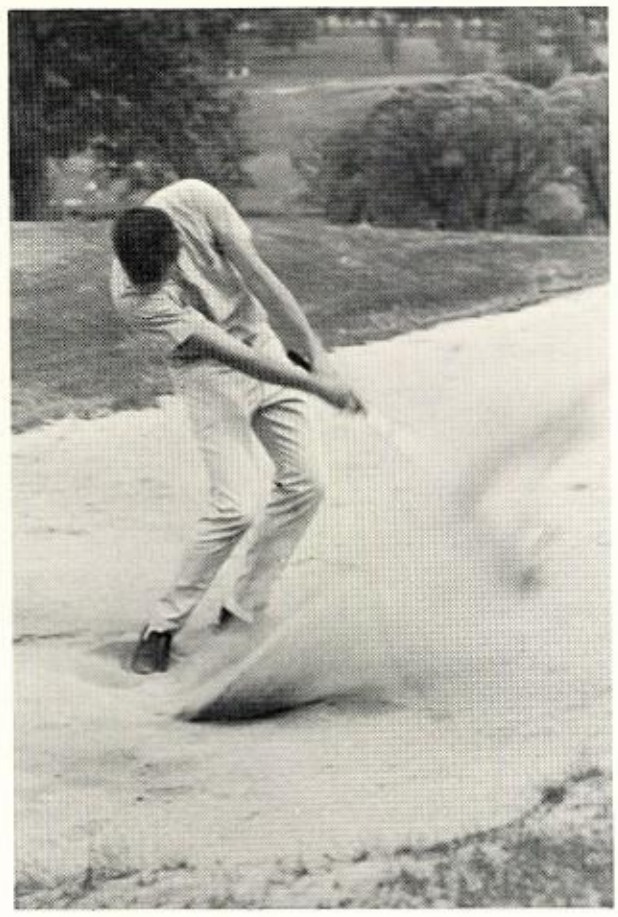
The Porters extended their string of undefeated conference matches to 21. The team finished the season by capturing the Tri-High against Joliet and Joliet Catholic.

John Beavers taps in a short putt to complete another fine round. John, a very steady player, captured third place individually in the conference.



Joe O'Brien is pictured recovering from a sandtrap. A 78 at the Tri-High won him the honor of individual medalist. Joe also placed second in the conference individually.

ORGANIZATIONS

The oil industries of the country have various organizations within their corporation. The members of these organizations work together to better the operation and management of the plant. The organizations of Lockport Township High School operate on the same basic principle. Each organization gives its members an insight on his future occupation. Monthly meetings provide lectures, films, and tours to acquaint the individual with the occupation of his choice. Each organization strives to interest its members in becoming beneficial and worthy men and women of the business world.

"All we told them was to shape up or ship out." Steve Etter and Bill Drost, the council co-presidents, wave from the Julie N. II.

The Student Council plays a valuable role at Lockport, providing the basic link between the student body and the administration. It performs many services throughout the school year. Some of these are Freshman Orientation, coordination of Homecoming week including the parade, the Homecoming dance, and entertainment during half time of the game, a mail service for Christmas cards, and the operation of the lost and found. The Student Council also sponsors the Twirp Dance in the fall and the annual spring semi-formal. It coordinates the election of its co-presidents. These are but a few of its many duties and accomplishments. Under the capable leadership of our co-presidents, Bill Drost and Steve Etter, and the skillful guidance of our sponsor Mr. Pryor the Student Council completed a very full and successful year.

Mr. Pryor thought his date would be appropriate for the Student Council spring dance, "Younger Than Springtime."

Corridor Cops

The monitors of Lockport Township High School have many important duties. They supervise the corridors by checking students' passes and reporting any disturbances. They also run errands for teachers, direct visitors, and report open lockers. These students, directed by their sponsor, Mr. Rippe, are a necessity for the efficient operation of our school.

Everyone Knows

The TIMES staff has no typing problems with these efficient typists, Marianne Rossetto, Elizabeth Rink, Sandy Greenham, Judy Kravish, Beverly Swanson, Mary King, Betty Cherry, and Gayle Meyer.

Just as a manager needs to know what is going on in his company, the students and faculty of Lockport Township High School need to know what is happening in the school. The TIMES makes sure all the past, latest, and greatest happenings are known to the student body and faculty.

Mrs. Virginia Mitchell, the Times' new sponsor, has done much to improve the paper. With great cooperation from the staffs, co-editors Karen Firman and Marlene Goodale are able to meet their many deadlines.

The circulation and finances of the paper are handled by Marianne Rossetto, business manager and Rosemary Reed, advertising manager. After the paper has been completed and the news is known to all, everyone connected with the production of the TIMES can sit back and feel that their goal has been accomplished.

Lock Creates

Our plant managers, co-editors Bev Partak and Anita Miranda, release the memories of another year.

Copy, running heads, captions, pictures, deadlines: these are familiar words to the members of the Lock editorial staff. The Lock staff members put in a great deal of time and effort putting together the yearbook for the enjoyment of the student body.

That little 'ole picture taker me, Dave Bischoff, photographer.

Working overtime, Mrs. Capponi still smiles after an eight hour day.

A Pool of Memories

The Lock business staff has charge of distributing identification cards, selling and distributing the yearbook, and sponsoring the dances after the football and basketball games.

Mrs. Capponi, the Lock sponsor, advises and helps turn out a yearbook that gives a pool of memories to each and every one.

Moving from labor to management are assistant editors Connie Beavon and Kathy Sharp.

Business members congregate in the Lock room in preparation of selling the yearbooks to the homerooms.

Betty Cherry, business manager, and Donna Peterson, dance chairman, seemed pleased with the profits from the Lock dances.

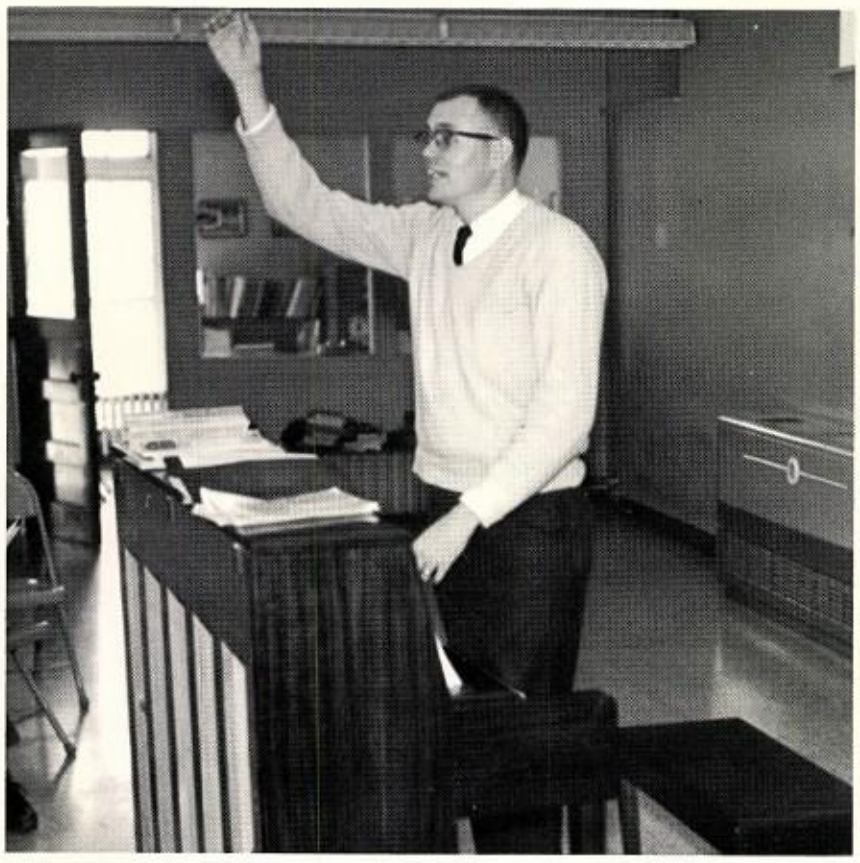
Songs to Be Sung



"Not I,I,I,—me,me,me," says Mr. Meints.

There are many different choruses this year. The main one is the A Cappella Chorus. There is also the Advanced Girls' Chorus for sophomores, juniors and seniors.

For the freshmen who are interested in this refreshing pastime, there is a Freshman Girls' Chorus.

Many small groups are formed besides the main choirs. The Madrigals are a group of junior and senior boys and girls chosen to sing at many different social events. Besides this group, sextets are formed in most classes.

The choral director, Mr. Donald Meints, takes charge of all choirs and singing groups.

Throughout the year the chorus has presented various programs for school enjoyment such as assemblies and a Christmas program.

High Octane Results

Herbert Tatroe, assistant director, is always ready to lend a helping hand to the students.

The Lockport Township High School Band, under the direction of Ernest Caneva and Herbert Tatroe, has played for many programs including those for Veterans' Day and Christmas. On March 1 the concert band held its annual Spring program. The marching band has shown its abilities by entertaining during the football games and in many parades including Memorial Day, Homecoming, and Halloween.

In High Octaves

Wonderland by Night was the name chosen by the band for its annual Christmas Dance held on December 31.

The pep band, composed of a small group of students, adds a variation to such things as the basketball games and school assemblies.

To end its year the band held its annual Band Banquet on April 4.

Ernest Caneva, director, always displays concern toward the band.

The officers Liz Rink, librarian, Shirley Skeldon, sophomore representative, Marianne Rossetto, vice-president, Richard Powers, president, John Edwards, treasurer, and Ed Scheuber, secretary find it difficult to dispence from band matters long enough to look up for our camera.

The color guard, featuring Richard Powers, drum major, Marianne Rossetto, Beth Matesi, Kay Stein, Rosemary Gruben, Julie Goeke, Judy Habenicht, Mona Hilsabeck, Linda Aspel and Keith Kucera, bring distinction and precision to the marching band.

"But I'm SURE this is how I learned to diagram last year!" says Barbara Fitzgerald while cadet teaching.

"Will you please hurry up and take the picture? We're starving!" says Cheryl Gunchin, secretary; Kathy Neal, vice-president; Karen Firman, president; Judy Habenicht, historian; Jane Beavers, treasurer; and Mr. Polley, sponsor.

The Future Teachers of America, under the leadership of Mr. Polley, has been a very active group this year. Two bake sales were held. The members baked cookies, brownies, and fudge and sold them to a very hungry group at the high school. In April the juniors and seniors spent two days of cadet teaching in the Lockport area schools. This experience helped students decide whether or not they really were interested in teaching. At the meetings, which were held semi-monthly, various slides were shown about colleges, and teachers told about their experiences as a teacher.

The group went to a workshop in Oak Lawn, a Delta Kappa Gamma dinner in Plainfield, and visited Illinois State Normal University at Normal and Illinois Wesleyan University at Bloomington. All the experience the students have had this year will aid them in teaching tomorrow.

Medicine Incorporated

Just in case Mrs. Habenicht notices that the Junior Medical Club officers have been juggling the accounts, Lauren Knubbe has the gavel ready to make her forget what she's seen. Officers are: Kathie Hostert, secretary; Judy Wymer, treasurer; Lauren Knubbe, president; Dianne Gee, corresponding secretary; and Kathy Dzak, vice-president.

To compete with the growing number of people requiring medical attention, there must be a comparable growth in the number of trained medical personnel. To accomplish this feat, interest must be stimulated. This is the purpose of the Junior Medical Club.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Verna Habenicht, the club sponsor, the aspects of the various fields of medicine are portrayed to the Junior Medical Club members. An assortment of speakers and film grasps their attention at meetings while field trips to area hospitals on medical institutions give them a first hand idea of a life in medicine.

In the past many minds have been opened to the prospects of medical careers. Continuing its objective, the Junior Medical Club serves Lockport High well. A functioning organization, it produces well-informed, interested students, ready to meet the world.

"See no donuts, smell no donuts, taste no donuts!" declare Patti Lapikas, Marlene Heeg, Judy L. Carlson and Debbie Ostafin.

FBLA prospers under the leadership of Jerry Simon, president; Marlene Heeg, vice-president; Connie Maske, treasurer! and Janis Beshears, secretary.

Future Business Leaders, FBLA for short, is one of the many vocational clubs at Lockport Township High School. The students who are members of this club enjoy many interesting meetings, which very often include speakers or demonstrations. Field trips offer excitement and new experiences for the club members. Twice this year, the FBLA held donut sales which proved to be very profitable. With the guidance of Mrs. Pease, these students get a better insight into the many phases of business.

GAA—Generates

GAA, one of the most enjoyable organizations at Lockport High, was again offered to all interested girls.

During the entire school year, girls participate in activities which include such sports as tennis, volleyball, basketball, bowling, water safety, and others.

Water safety, one of the newest sports at school, is enjoyed by a number of girls from all classes.

Miss Olson, Dean of Girls, guides and counsels girls whenever advice is needed.

Marcia Frampton, president; Mary Ogren, secretary; Corliss Smith, vice-president; and Jo Ayers, treasurer helped lead GAA through another successful year.

Miss Zusag, the newest addition to the girls' physical education program, made many friends among the students.

Life saving is perhaps one of the safest activities offered at Lockport, as these four girls so skillfully exhibit.

Athletic Ability

Another activity on the GAA schedule this year was the Telegraphic Bowling Tournament. The girls with the ten top averages for the first semester compete in a play-off game. The five remaining girls then compete with other girls over the nation. The five girls representing Lockport this year were Judy L. Carlson, Gayle Landon, Patti Lapikas, Carol Larson, and Barbara Woock.

At the end of the school year, all the GAA members are rewarded by pin and letter awards presented to the members.

The five girls who represented Lockport High in the Telegraphic Bowling Tournament are Judy L. Carlson, Carol Larson, Gayle Landon, Barbara Woock, and Patti Lapikas.

Back again for the second year is Miss Lucas with her warm and friendly personality.

Mrs. Pickering, after a year of absence, was again reunited into the teaching staff of Lockport High.

These capable secretaries and treasurers helped lend a helping hand in the bowling schedule. From top to bottom: Marilyn Gullickson, Lois Ward, Elizabeth King, Elizabeth Rink, and Mickey Zabala.

These junior girls seem to be having a ball, but there's one problem, where's the ball?

"Ringo, Paul, George, and John" President, Bev Partak; treasurer, Mary Ogren; secretary, Jean Marietta; vice-president, Corliss Smith, show a sign made by the Pep Club.

The Pep Club was reorganized this year with Miss Zuzag as sponsor. The members make signs to promote school spirit for the athletic events throughhout the year.

By attending the games, swimming, wrestling, and track meets, the Pep Club members earn points toward a letter.

Lockport's All-Americans

The mighty leaders—Mr. Zimmer, sponsor; Mike Murawski, secretary; Jerry Anderson, president; Joe O'Brien, treasurer; Ron Senffner, vice-president.

"Hurry! Hurry! Hurry! Come and get your Porter pep buttons!" say Joe O'Brien, Pat Bannon, and Rich Powers.

Sponsored by Mr. Zimmer, the L-Club holds meetings on the first Monday of every month.

Always striving to promote school spirit, the L-Club again sponsored many activities which showed enthusiasm and spirit. Among these many activities were the selling of mums at Homecoming, ushering at home basketball games, sponsoring the inter-class tournament and their annual dinner-dance held at Valley View Farm. This year the L-Club also sold Porter pep buttons to promote school spirit during the regional tournament.

For these activities and their valuable services to the varsity teams, the L-Club has become one of the best organizations of Lockport Township High School.

"Look at the nice sign we got for only three chickens, two pigs, one cow, and one horse," says John Ambrosini, sentinel; Ron Moeller, secretary; Dale Meisinger, treasurer; Floyd Schultz, president; Mike LeGrand, reporter; Mike Bromberek, vice-president; and Jerry Paul, reporter.

The Future Farmers of America is an organization composed of high school boys who are interested in some field of agriculture. The boys have many activities during the year including a paper drive and a car wash in the spring, an ushering service at the football games, and a coat check at the home basketball games.

Each member is required to have an individual project. The more popular ones are beef and swine production and field crops that include corn, small grains, and soybeans. In addition to these projects the boys have improvement projects such as farm safety, farm beautification, farm electrification, farm mechanics, and farm soil and water conservation.

The Future Farmers also compete with other boys from various schools in public speaking and parliamentary procedure contests. The Lockport Chapter, under the direction of Mr. Lawrence, their sponsor, does well in competition.

Reel Service

No, they're not stealing equipment. These boys are setting up projectors for the following morning. Ben Topolski and Donald Zulecki.

Why do we have a Projectionist Club? There are many reasons why this organization is essential. Among these reasons are to make possible Visual Education. All of the school's dances and assemblies are made possible by the work of the Projectionists Club.

The boys are under the fine supervision of Mr. Jorgenson, who sacrifices his time for the welfare of the club, which has been of real service this year and a great help.

The man who keeps the wheels rolling is Mr. Jorgensen, our sponsor.

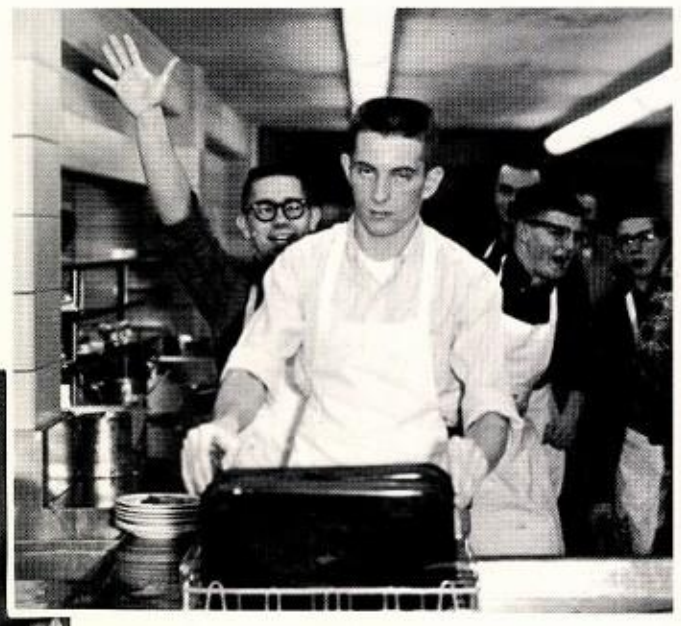
Food for Thought

Have you ever considered the amount of time cafeteria aides give to their work in the cafeteria? In addition to giving "service with a smile," they must either give up a study hall or homeroom. However, it must be worthwhile, for many of the busiest people in school work as cafeteria aides. They reap extra benefits in fun and the opportunity to become acquainted with other students.

To be able to visualize the amount of work the cafeteria aides help to accomplish, over one-thousand lunches are served to LTHS students every day. In the light of a comparison, the Lockport Township High School cafeteria is the biggest restaurant in Lockport. The cafeteria aides can be proud to be a part of such a big business.

"998, 999, 1000—I think I'm seeing double now!" agree Pat Carr, Mrs. Woock, Linda Jaggers, and Mary Dempsey.



"How can a guy get any work done around here?" says Bob Johnson.

We Serve . . . You Benefit

The library aides under the guidance of Miss Ward and Miss Hatton help maintain a library efficient enough even for those with the most scholarly aptitudes. The library staff does all it can to establish an atmosphere which acts as a catalyst to learning.

The Office aides can best be described as dependable, efficient, and c a p a b l e. Their many duties include running errands, typing, and assisting the counselors.

The library and office aides are always smiling and ready to lend a helpful hand.

HONORS

Four years have passed, and the refining process for the seniors at Lockport Township High School has ended. The four years have represented a transformation from an adolescent to an adult. Each senior will now pass through the doors of Lockport Township High School for the last time, each being a finished product of its refining process. Now is the time when each individual product will be sold to the markets and people of the world. The graduates have conscientiously studied so that they may in the future sell themselves to society as doctors, lawyers, ministers, and teachers. Humanity awaits products of high quality. The hopes of the faculty, administration, friends, and parents are that the graduates of Lockport Township High School have been processed into a product of high quality which will bring the world into perfect harmony.

Through

Character, Leadership, Scholarship, and Service: These four qualities constitute the making of an active member of the National Honor Society. NHS is a service group chosen by the teachers in accordance with the qualities above. The NHS, under the guidance of Mrs. Mitzit, serves the school in numerous small ways as well as doing one major project a year. This year the NHS sponsored a talent show with the theme "Showboat." There was a variety of acts which appealed to the taste of all present. In addition, NHS was in charge of decorations for the Homecoming dance and the tea for returning college students. In January the induction ceremony was held when 5 seniors, 32 juniors, and 6 sophomores were received into the society. The final meeting of the year was in the form of a picnic. At this gathering the new inductees were formally welcomed into full membership.

"The object of this chapter shall be to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in the pupils of Lockport Township High School.

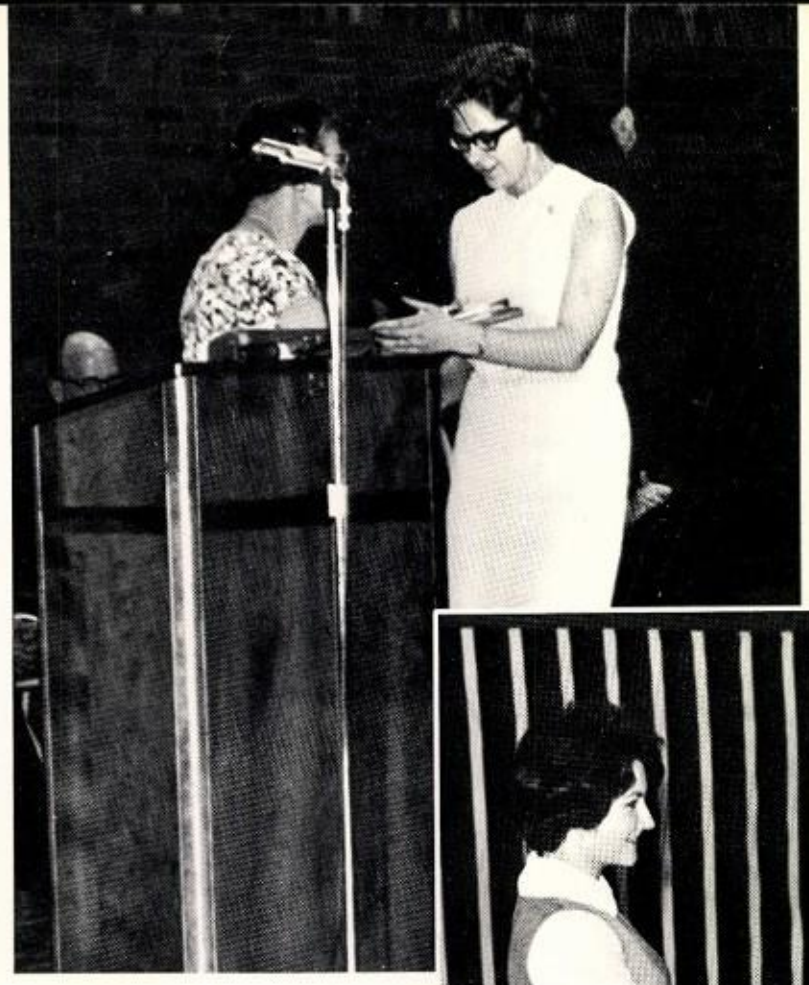
Acknowledged Through

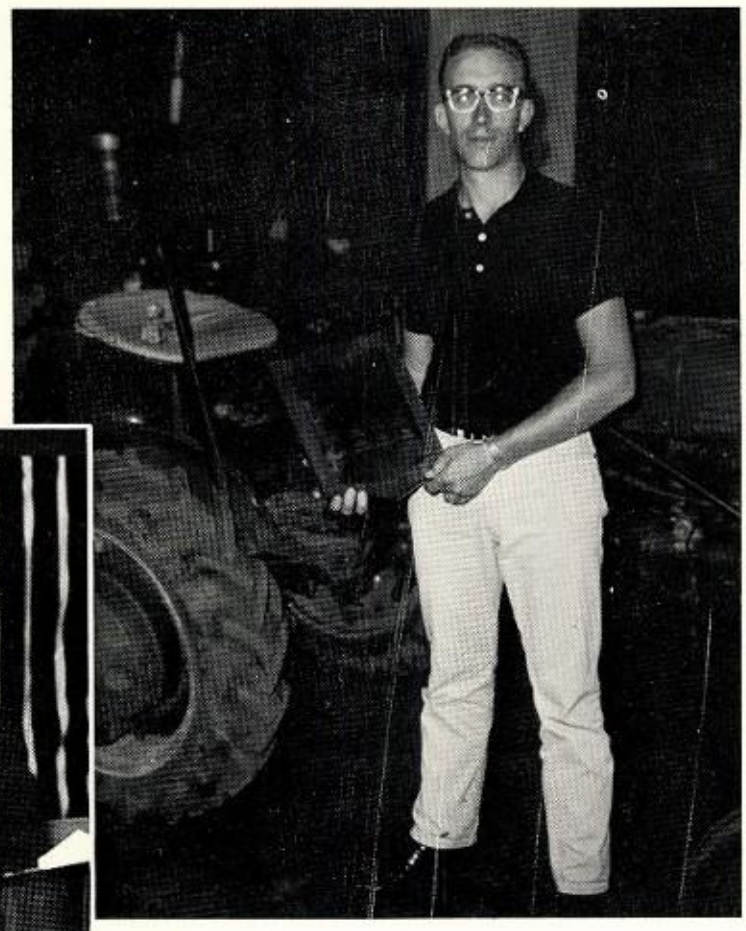
Debbie Lindstrom, president of the junior class of 1964, accepts the traditional hatchet and trowel from John Ammer, class president of the senior class of 1964.

Yvonne Triplett presents pins to Genevieve Ponkauskas, LaRose Harper, Herb Kinder, Lurene Asklund, and Lois Ward for their outstanding service and ability as a library aide throughout their four years of high school.



Mrs. Morrison proudly presents Dorothy Sheffield with the Home Economics Award.

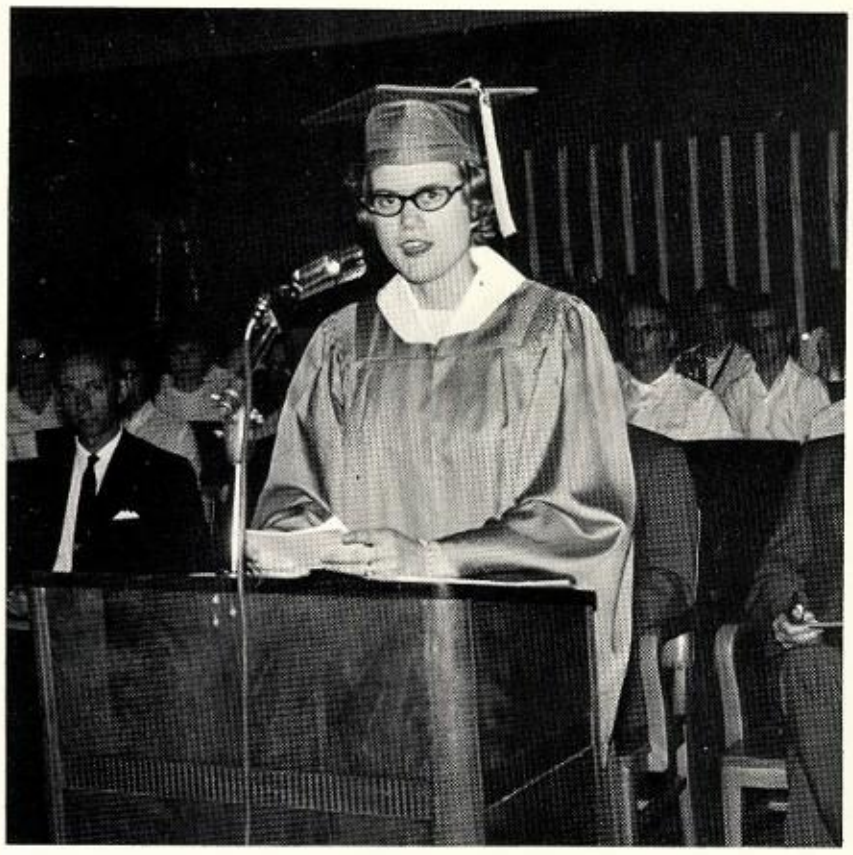
The DAR award, based on leadership, service, dependability, and patriotism is presented to Rosemary McGinnis.



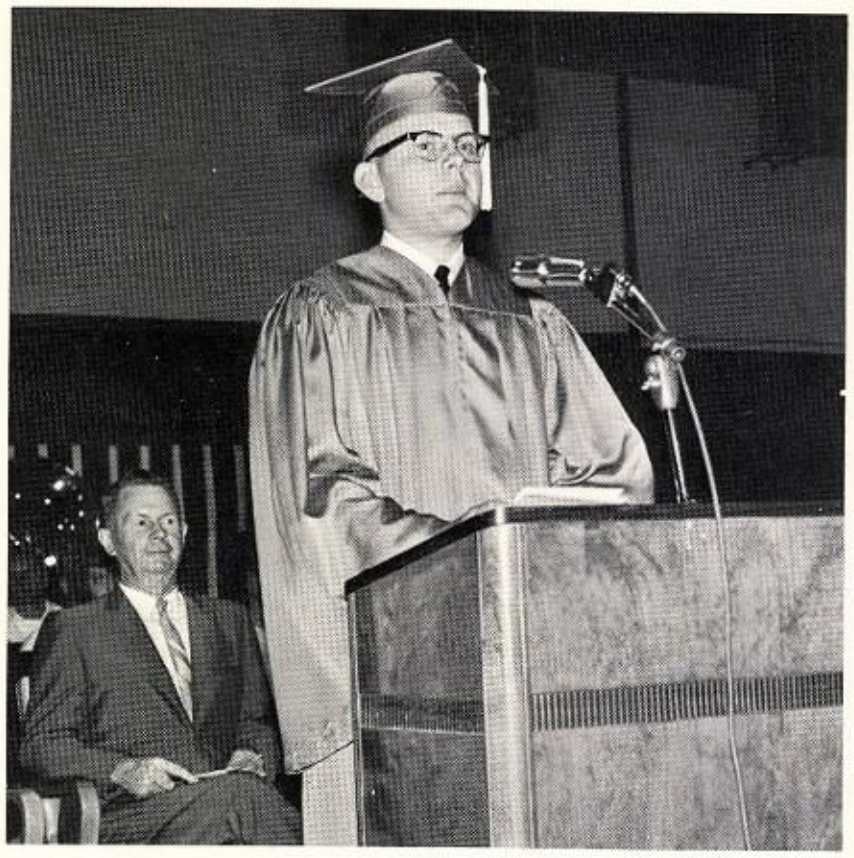
For his outstanding work in the field of Agriculture, Floyd Schultz was presented with the Agricultural Award.

Awards

Honorary and monetary scholarships from the Illinois State Scholarship Association were awarded to Becky White, Jane Beavers, Bonnie Clements, Elizabeth Rink, Linda Hartz, Shirley Gray, Sandy Lawrence, Janice Beshears, Judy Major, Doug Lemmon, Scott Lowtwaitt, and Bob Johnson.



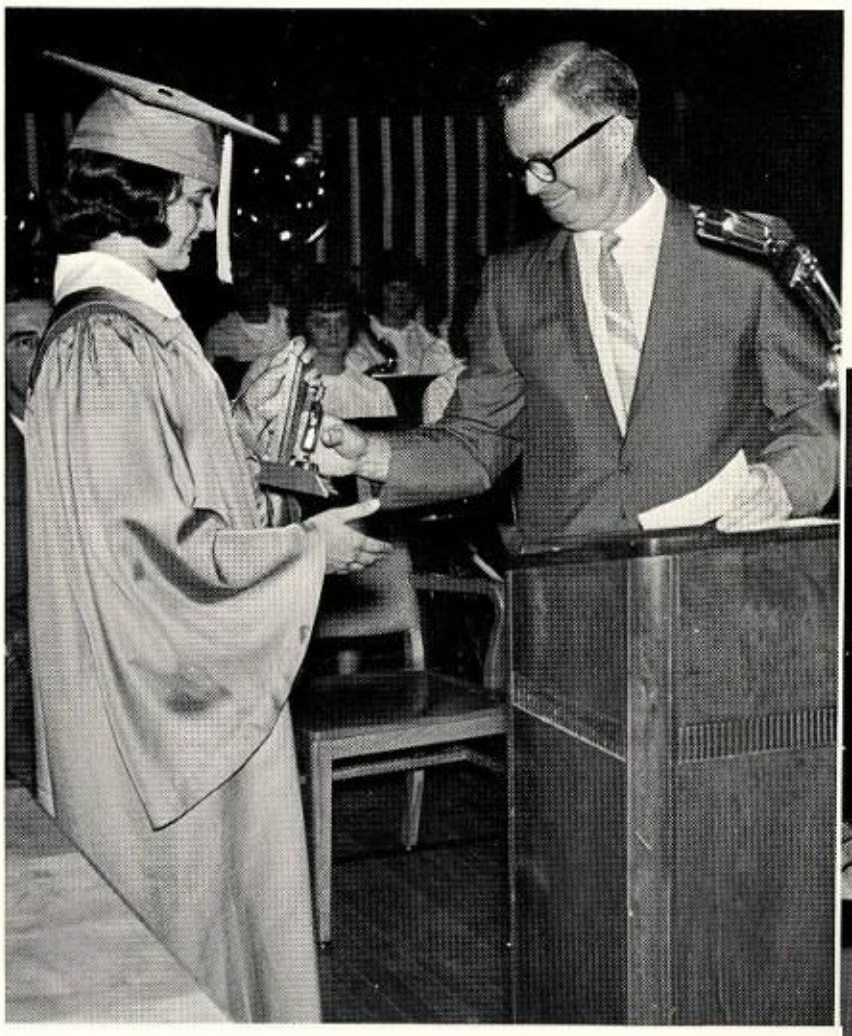
Mona Hilsabeck presented Acts I and II which depicted the early scenes and settings of an individual's life.



Douglas Corniels, the other graduation speaker, presented Act III of the graduation message, "The World is a Stage," in which the life of an individual is compared to a life in the theater.

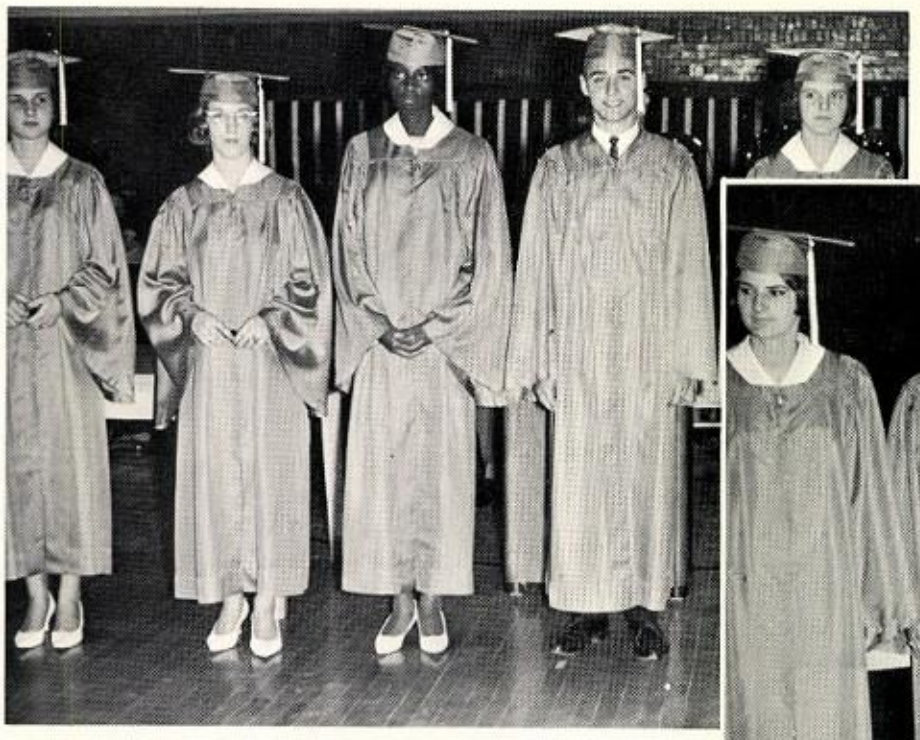
Admirable Aims

The past four years at Lockport High have left memories of friendships, studies, and fun. As freshmen, the school presented itself as a four-year challenge. The following year brought anxieties of becoming upperclassmen.



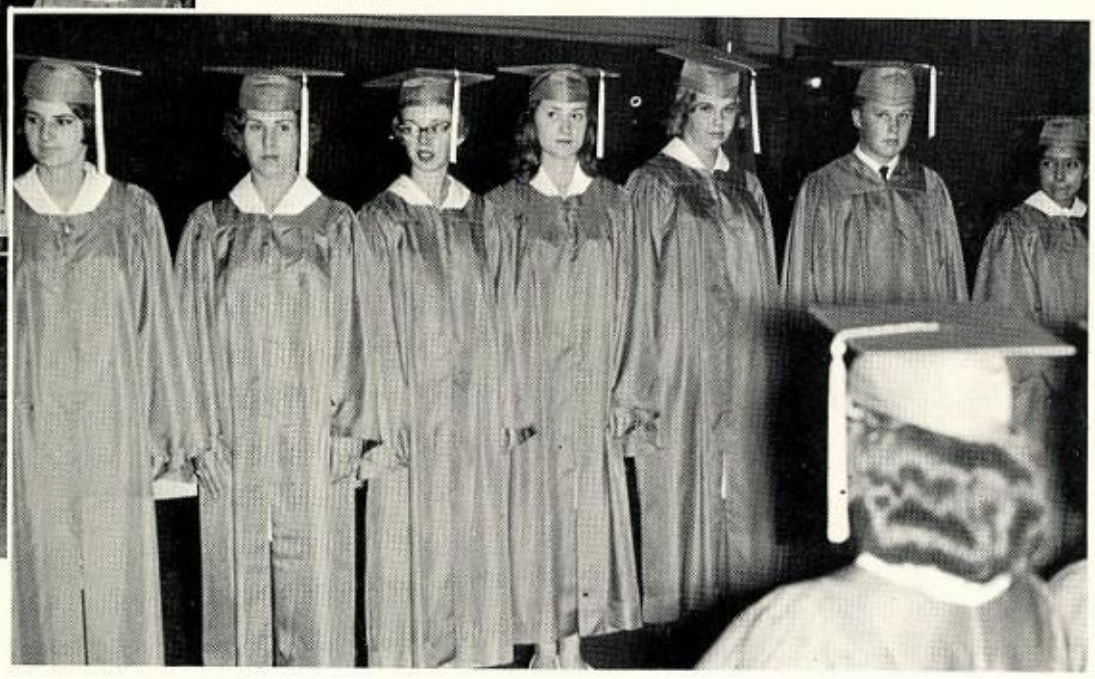
Judy Major proudly accepts the award of salutatorian. Judy also took honors with the National Merit Scholarship award.

Rosemary Reed smiles with delight as she accepts the award for valedictorian of the Class of '64. Rosemary, who was also tops in the field of science, was presented with the Bach and Lamb award.



The healthiest members of the senior class were presented with attendance awards. Mary King, Betty Cherry, LaRose Harper, Jim Hemphill, and Elizabeth King.

Mary Kozak, Patti Lapikas, Linda Mitchell, Debbie Ostafin, Margaret Purdy, Leslie Reiter, and Mickey Zabala.



Attained

The junior rings made the new upperclassmen proud to be part of Lockport High. The enchantment of spring set the scene for the Jr.-Sr. Prom. The final year began with early thoughts of graduation, but the entire year sped away. All too soon Pomp and Circumstance brought a high school career to an end and commenced the life of an adult. The admirable aim of the Class of '64 had been achieved—graduation.

A cool glass of water is the best congratulations Mrs. Habenicht can give her son Rich after a long wait to get his diploma.

Junior marshalls, Debbie Lindstrom and Gary Bond, lead the senior class into the gym for the long awaited moment.

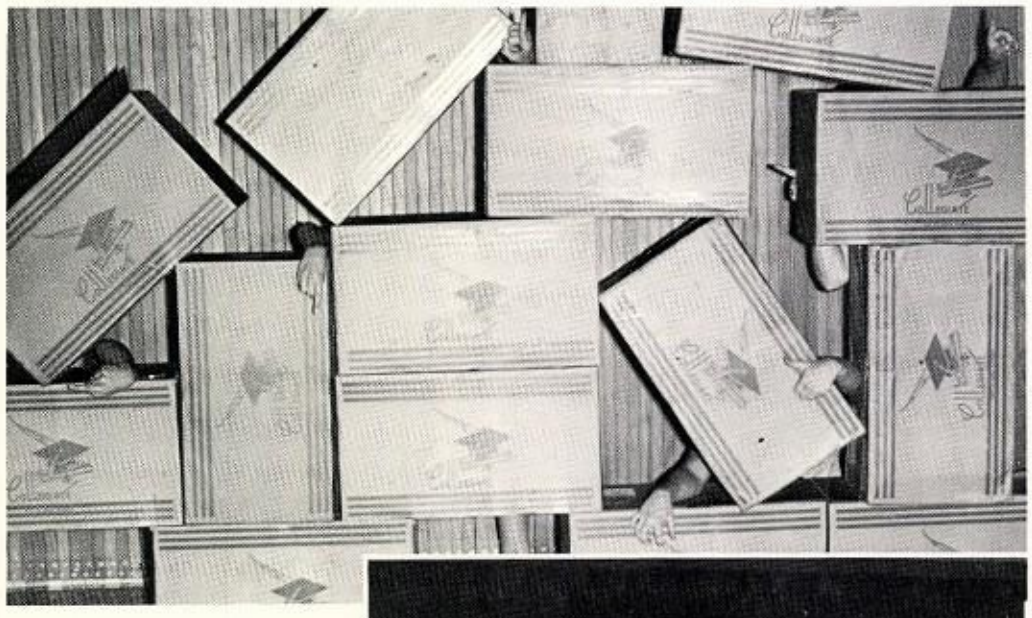
Recipients Rewarded

A broken foot didn't hinder Tom Pinn from being honored at the annual National Honor Society induction ceremony.

Mrs. Mitchell presented Marianne Rossetto, Karen Firman, and Marlene Goodale with bouquets of flowers for their fine performances in the senior class play.

He went that-a-way.

Rev. Akaka greets Steve Etter by placing a Hawaiian lei over his head. Rev. Akaka addressed the students on the importance of world harmony.



The graduates listen intently as Rev. William White presents his message at the Baccalaureate program.

Dr. Blatnik gratefully thanks Ann Murrie for the senior class gift, an "L" to be placed in the floor at front of the school.

Oh Lockport Alma Mater,
For you today we stand;
Sweetheart of the prairie,
Your heart is always true.

The portals of our learning.
In halls we love so well;
Maroon and white, we're for you,
Our loyalty we pledge.

EDITORS EPITAPH

When the last pages have gone to press, the entire staff breathes a sigh of relief. Without the untiring staff who worked together with the co-editors, the book would not have been completed.

As co-editors we would like to thank everyone for his cooperation and help during the past year, with special thanks to:

Mrs. Capponi—for all her help and advice, and for her sense of humor which gave spirit to the entire staff when things looked gloomy.

Rachael Grant, Rosemary McGinnis, Connie Beavon, Judy Habenicht, Judy Wheeler, Elaine Longhini, Janice Potter, Janet Rodeghiero—for working diligently with the class sections and for accepting our sometimes hazy ideas.

David Bischoff—for taking all our criticisms but always trying again to get just the pictures we wanted for deadlines.

Karin Becker—for her hard work on the unending indexing job.

Marianne Rossetto—for contributing her typing ability just when we needed it most.

Joe O'Brien—for taking over the organization of the sports section.

Becky White—for being able to scrutinize hieroglyphic writing in order to correct copy.

Entire School—for its overall cooperation.

Our parents—for being understanding with all the late suppers and knowing they were not losing their daughter but gaining a yearbook.

We sincerely hope that the 1964 LOCK will capture for each of you the moments you wish to remember through four years of refinement at our educational plant.

Sincerely,

Anita Miranda

Beverlee Partak
